EUROPE.

BY THE ATLANTIC CABLE.

Further Rioting in Brussels.

Quiet Restored by the Resignation of the Ministry.

FINAL SETTLEMENT OF THE U. S. LOAN.

The Bonds Higher than Ever Before.

The Sick Prince.

LONDON, November 30.—Official bulletins from Sandringham report that the Prince of Wales passed a quiet night. Although the fever has shown no further signs of abatement, to-day he continues quiet, and the symptoms are unchanged. The Princess Alexanda has wholly recovered from her indisposition.

LONDON, December 1.—The latest official bulletin regarding the condition of the Prince of Wales reports that his symptoms are favorable, and that the Prince is unquestionably improving.

Another Communist Shot.

PARIS, November 30.—Cremieux, one of the four Communist leaders condemned to death by the court martial at Marseilles, was executed to-day. He was taken from his prison at an early hour this morning, conveyed a short distance outside the walls and shot. He died bravely, refusing to be blindfolded. His last words were "Vive la Republique!"

A New Governor General and More Troops for Cuba.

MADRID, November 30.—It is said that the Government has resolved to remove Captain General Valmaseda from the Governorship of Cuba, and that 30,000 fresh troops are to be dispatched to the island.

Rioting in Brussels—Troops Refuse to Charge Upon the People.

BRUSSELS, November 30.—To-day being one of the fete days of the Communists, trouble was anticipated, and extraordinary precautions were taken by the authorities to prevent dangerous demonstrations in the present excited condition of the city. The Burgomaster issued a proclamation in the morning, enjoining all good citizens to remain within their dwellings, forbidding outdoor demonstrations and declaring that illegal assemblages would be dispersed. Nevertheless in the course of the day recent disturbances were renewed again. Monster crowds of men of opposite political parties collected in the streets, and there were frequent collisions between them. The police seemed to be unable or unwilling to disperse the rioters. In one instance a company of civic guards, sixty strong, were ordered to charge upon the people, but they reversed their muskets and refused to obey. The disorder continues. Mobs hold possession of the streets, and the excitement is intense.

Quiet Restored in Brussels.

BRUSSELS, December 1.—Baron D'Arethan announced in the Chambers to-day that the King had demanded the portfolios of the Ministers, and they had accordingly resigned. The Chambers would, therefore, stand adjourned until the Ministry was formed. The resignation of the D'Arethan government has had a most tranquilizing effect. The streets are free from crowds, the people seem to be satisfied, and the city is quiet.

LATER—The formation of a new cabinet is intrusted to M. De Theux, leader of the Conservative party.

Message of President Thiers.

PARIS, December 1.—President Thiers, in a message to the National Assembly, on reopening of the session, referred to the treaty between France and Germany, a Commercial Convention with England, the military law and a general organization of the administration, but offers no suggestions as to constitutional changes, and makes no allusion whatever to political subjects.

Cholera in Delhi.

BOMBAY, December 1.—Cholera of the worst form is raging with great violence in the city of Delhi.

French Squadron Off Corsica.

PARIS, December 1.—The squadron detailed to guard the shore of Corsica is to remain at Ajaccio for an indefinite time. Three months' supplies have just been sent to it from Marseilles. It is supposed that its object is to prevent any attempt on the part of the Imperialists at a rising on the island.

Settlement of the United States Loan.

LONDON, December 1.—The final settlement of the United States funded loan was made to-day, without disturbing the money market, the bonds closing higher than ever before, the loan advancing to 90 1-2 gold, because the settlement was anticipated.

The portion of the loan unsettled at the opening of the books to-day was only twenty millions of dollars, and of this the taking of nearly fifteen millions was arranged in London, leaving less than six millions undisposed of, with the continent to hear from. There is no doubt that the whole of the loan in the European markets is taken.

BERLIN, December 1.—The German parliament closed its sessions to-day.

The German military authorities at Epernay have executed two Frenchmen who killed a German sentinel.

Thanksgiving Day in Vienna.

VIENNA, December 1.—John Jay, Minister of the United States to Austria, gave a supper last night in celebration of Thanksgiving Day, at which most of the Americans in Vienna were present. In some remarks upon the occasion Mr. Jay alluded to the present proud position of the Republic, and the impending fall of local corruptions before the assaults of a fearless press and honest men of all parties.

The conclusion of the trades mark convention between Austria and the United States was significant, he said, of an increasing interchange of the manufacturers of the two countries to which the approaching international exhibition at this capital would give an impetus by presenting American productions for the first time in Eastern Europe by the side of those of Western Asia. An allusion by the speaker to Count Andreassy was thrice cheered. General Post also made an address, in which he discoursed at some length upon the subject of American antiquities.

Miscellaneous Dispatches.

LONDON, November 30.—The Democrats of this city have resolved to tender an invitation to Sir Charles Dilke to deliver a lecture in St. James Hall.

PARIS, November 30.—Count Von Beust, new Austrian Minister to England, arrived here to-day en route to London.

LONDON, December 1.—The Earl of Chesterfield died to-day of typhus fever. He contracted the disease about the same time and in the same locality as the Prince.

Sir Charles Dilke addressed a meeting at Ballow last night. During the evening the audience became very disorderly. There was some fighting, and the meeting broke up in confusion.

BERLIN, December 1.—The Americans observed Thanksgiving yesterday in an appropriate manner. Special Divine service in the morning was well attended. In the evening a dinner was given at the Hotel de Rome.

In the Lower House of the Diet yesterday the triennial army budget was passed to a second reading by a small majority. The items of expenditure were sharply criticised, and many pronounced them extravagant, and it looked for a time as if the budget would be rejected, the opposition was so strong and determined. But the Minister warned the House in the most significant manner that it should prepare for the future; that France contemplates revenge for her defeat, and would seek it as soon as the indemnity was paid. The only safety for Germany was in her army, and that should neither be weakened nor disabled.

LONDON, December 1.—The death of the Earl of Chesterfield intensifies the anxiety for the Prince of Wales. The public uneasiness is so great as to have a depressing effect on the markets, which were generally dull and flat to-day. The Queen has returned to Windsor from Sandringham, where she has been watching by the bedside of the Prince. The festivities usually given by the Court on the First of December, the birthday of the Princess of Wales, were abandoned.

Small-pox in a violent form is spreading in Plymouth and vicinity. The authorities are building special hospitals for those stricken with the disease, and have adopted stringent sanitary precautions.

Marine News.

LIVERPOOL, December 1.—The steamships Ohio, from Baltimore, and Washington, from New York, have arrived.

The Markets.

LONDON, December 1.—Consols, money, 92⅞; account, 92⅞, ex-dividend; 5-20s, '62, 92⅞; 5-20s, '65, 92⅞; 5-20s, '67, 95; 10-40s, 90⅝. Crude petroleum 15.

LIVERPOOL, December 1.—Cotton, middling upland, 9⅝d.; California wheat, 12s. 9d.; red spring, 10s. 10d.a11s. 4d.; red winter, 11s. 7d.; flour, 25s.a29; corn, 28s. 3d.

ANTWERP, December 1.—Refined petroleum 46 francs.

PARIS, December 1.—Rentes 56f. 90c. Specie in the bank of France increased 100,000 francs.

* * *

AT Little Rock, Arkansas, it is rumored that Benj. Thomas, Commissioner of Public Works, a member of the Clayton ring, has fraudulently issued $80,000 of Arkansas levee bonds. This is supposed to have some connection with the suicide of Colonel Haymaker, at St. Louis, some days since. Haymaker was a banker at Fort Smith.

GALE AT HALIFAX.

Great Damage to Property and Loss of Life.

BOSTON, December 1.—A special dispatch to the Traveller from Halifax says a hurricane visited the northeast side of the Island of Cape Breton on the night of the 27th ult., doing immense damage to houses, barns, trees and shipping. The gale began at eight o'clock and lasted until five o'clock next morning. The tide was four feet higher than ever known before. The public wharf at Port Hood was swept away, and in the village several houses were blown down. A number of vessels anchored at Port Mulgraer dragged their anchors and passed out of the strait to sea. The Bermudian brig Jabez, from Charlottetown, was wrecked on Fox Island, and only one man saved. Ten schooners were wrecked in the Strait of Canso. It is feared there has been considerable loss of life by the gale.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, November 30, 1871.

EXIT MURPHY—EVIDENCE OF HIS DEFAULT.

The Tribune to-morrow says: "With thanksgiving it seems fit that there should be an end of Murphy. We propose now to make it," and then proceeds to publish some three columns of documentary evidence, mainly derived from the files of the War Department in reference to Murphy's army contracts. The evidence which has recently come to light, it says, proves him to be a defaulter to the Government in one contract alone to the amount of $460,000. This, with $50,000 loss on shoddy hats furnished by him, makes Murphy an actual defaulter to the Government for over $570,000. The Tribune explains that it has in every case published evidence against Murphy—not when it thought it could have a political effect, but when it could get it—and that the present evidence, procured only on the day before his removal, would not now be published at all but for the official letters of compliment, which makes it incumbent on it to defend what it has heretofore said.

NEW YORK, December 1, 1871.

MINOR MATTERS.

Connolly has about given up hope of getting bail.

Alexis inspected the Military Academy at West Point to-day, and then returned to this city.

Mayor Hall has not yet been arrested, and the Sheriff states that he has received no papers in connection with the case.

Argument was heard in the Fisk-Mansfield case to-day before Judge Brady. Decision reserved.

It is stated that $500,000 worth of grain is ice-bound in the canal.

The steamer Algeria arrived this morning from Liverpool.

General Chester A. Arthurs assumed his duties as Collector of this port to-day.

The principal of the Hunter's Point school this morning obtained duplicate keys, opened the door, called the scholars to order, and commenced repeating the Lord's Prayer, when a disturbance ensued, which was only quelled by calling in the police. Seven pupils were expelled, and one sent to the station house.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

ANOTHER THROUGH LINE OPENED.

PEORIA, ILLS., November 30.—The Toledo, Peoria and Warsaw Railroad Company have opened their new line to Burlington, and cars are now running through from Columbus, Ohio, to Burlington, Iowa, without change. This opens another through line from the east.

THROUGH TRAIN FROM CHICAGO TO ST. PAUL.

MILWAUKEE, November 30.—Arrangements have been made for a through passenger train from Chicago to St. Paul via Milwaukee without change of cars. The first train will start from Chicago as soon as the bridge across the Mississippi at Winona is completed, which will be about the 10th of December. Large and commodious [illegible] cars have been constructed for this train, giving the people of the Northwest mail facilities to equal any in the country.

FROM LOUISVILLE TO THE SOUTH ATLANTIC.

ATLANTA, GA., December 1.—A movement to establish a railway from Louisville and the Ohio river to the South Atlantic seaboard, with steam facilities to Europe, is nearly complete.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER,
WASHINGTON, D. C., December 1, 1871, 7:00 P. M.

PROBABILITIES.

Northerly winds with clearing weather are probable for Saturday on the south Atlantic and Gulf coasts; westerly winds with pleasant weather in the Middle and Eastern States; increasing southwest winds on the lakes, with a falling barometer and cloudy weather. Cautionary signals continue for this evening at Wilmington, Charleston, Savannah and Jacksonville, and are ordered for Oswego, Rochester and Buffalo.

SILVER WEDDING.

A Pleasant Occasion at Edgewood.

On Wednesday evening last, Dr. James Orr, the well known dentist, of Smithfield street, and his amiable wife, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage at their residence at Edgewood on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Some thirty or forty couples had been invited, and the evening was spent in the most agreeable manner. Among those in attendance were some half a dozen prominent Pennsylvania railroad officials and their wives. After a short time had been spent in extending congratulations to the "happy couple" who had been so auspiciously joined a quarter of a century ago, supper was announced, and all repaired to the dining room, where a most sumptuous repast had been prepared, and was served in the best style. This over, the company returned to the parlors, and spent the remaining hours of the evening in social intercourse and amusement—the occasion being one of the most happy imaginable. The presents incident to the occasion were both numerous and costly, and presented a very attractive appearance. The company separated with the kindliest expresions of regard for the doctor and his lady, and wishing them full twenty-five years more of wedded bliss—that they might live to celebrate their golden wedding, and then, hand in hand, pass gently down the slope, and "sleep together at the foot." The years have dealt kindly with them, both are vivacious and buoyant, full of spirit and energy, and the wish of all is that they may live long and happily together.

THANKSGIVING RE-UNION.

A Social Gathering at the Universalist Church—Singing, Refreshments and a Good Time Generally.

Thanksgiving day passed at the Universalist Church without any services, owing to the late severe illness of its pastor, the Rev. Mr. Van DeMark. In the evening, however, the congregation, consisting of both sexes—old and young—met in the vestry room in the basement of the church for the purpose of having a social re-union. The evening was spent very pleasantly, and besides the congregation, a large number of their friends were also present and participated in the festivities.

After the singing of a number of pieces of music, supper was announced. The table was sumptuously laden with all the delicacies of the season, including oysters, game, turkeys, besides abundance of cake, pies, &c., &c. The lady attendants were all untiring in their attentions to see all their guests well provided for. The rest of the evening was passed very socially, all seeming well pleased. It was announced that on the evening of the 25th of December (Christmas evening) another social reunion would be held in the same place, at which time a rare treat will be in store for the Sunday School children, as well as for the members of the congregation. The Rev. Mr. Van De Mark says he hopes to see his whole congregation present, together with all their friends. The invitation is universal.

ANOTHER CHECK FRAUD.

A Manager Swindled.

Another attempt, and a successful one too, at raising the wind was made on Thanksgiving Day. During the matinee at the Varieties a young man presented himself at the box-office and asked for Mr. Aims, the manager. When Mr. Aims made his appearance the man handed him a check signed "D. O'Neill & Co.," for sixty-two dollars and fifty cents, and stated that Mr. Stroup, of the Fifth Avenue House, had sent him down to get twenty-five dollars and leave the check as security. The money was handed out at once, and the bearer of the check disappeared. Soon after Mr. Aims dispatched his treasurer, Mr. Wilson, to Mr. Stroup's place of business with the balance of the amount which the check called for. No sooner had the matter been called to the attention of Mr. Stroup than he pronounced the check a forgery, and such proved to be the case. As the case stands Mr. Aims is twenty-five dollars short and some scoundrel that much richer.

The Pittsburgh Female College.

The present term of the Pittsburgh Female College will close on Friday evening next, and the examinations will commence on Thursday morning. The winter term will open on Monday, December 11. The usual entertainment will be given just before the holidays. It is gratifying to know that the prospects for a large attendance are excellent. Many who were kept away this term on account of the reports of small-pox, will attend next term, as the disease has abated, and the danger is now almost over. The college is more than ever worthy of patronage, and parents having daughters to educate should not neglect such grand opportunities as are here presented. For catalogue, address Rev. I. C. Pershing, D.D., Pittsburgh, Pa.

* * *

THERE is one thing we earnestly desire to impress upon the minds of all voters, and that is to cast a [illegible] for no man, at the coming election who doesn't [illegible] Pier, Dannals & Co.'s Cream Ale—we wan't [illegible] men in office.

SECOND EDITION.

WASHINGTON.

GRANT OPPOSED TO UNIVERSAL AMNESTY.

Report of General Sherman.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 30, 1871.

Accounts of Disbursing Officers Overhauled.

The clerks in the Treasury Department have many of them been working all night for a week or two past, and the accounts of every disbursing officer of the government have been overhauled. This was ordered in consequence of the numerous defalcations that have recently been reported, and the object is to ascertain positively the correctness of every officer's accounts.

The Formal Case of Our Government

For presentation to the Geneva Conference has been completed, and its translation into French is also finished. It is understood among diplomats that England has prepared an argument for this Conference based upon an effort to show that the United States, in her treatment of Spain since our war, has, in encouraging and aiding the Cuban insurgents, been doing exactly what we are now arraigning England for.

Minister to Hakodadi.

John H. Hawes, of Iowa, has received his credentials as United States Minister to Hakodadi, Japan, and will leave this week for his post.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 1, 1867.

The President Opposed to Universal Amnesty.

The President to-day, in reply to several Congressmen who were urging him to recommend universal amnesty in his message, announced his decision not to do so. He thinks the present method for repentant rebels to obtain the removal of political disabilities ample for the present.

The Army.

General Sherman, in his annual report, compliments the officers and troops for duties performed at the South, and says: As General Halleck recommends, however, it is eminently to be desired that the sphere of action of the army in these quasi civil cases should be better defined by statute, but in the absence of such statute we can only rely upon the intelligence and good sense of the officers specially engaged. Thus far few mistakes, if any, have been made, and the conduct of the troops has met the hearty approval of the Courts, civil officers, and even of the inhabitants, against whom they have been compelled to act. According to a statement prepared on the 20th of October, 1871, from the latest returns, the army was composed as follows: Ten regiments of cavalry, 8,800 enlisted men; five regiments of artillery, 3,205 enlisted men; twenty-five regiments of infantry, 13,742 enlisted men; one battalion of engineers, 314 enlisted men; ordnance department, 443 enlisted men; West Point detachment, 202 enlisted men; signal detachment, 199 enlisted men; hospital stewards, 310 enlisted men; ordnance sergeants, 114 enlisted men; available recruits en route, 349 enlisted men; permanent recruiting parties, 904 enlisted men; general service men at the War Department and Department Headquarters, 420 enlisted men; total enlisted men, 29,003; commissioned officers, 2,105; retired officers, 295. It will thus be seen that the number of enlisted men and officers is within the limits prescribed by law. In order to maintain the military establishment within the limits prescribed in the act of July 15, 1871, each company must be kept below its proportionate standard, and the consequence is that many of the companies at distant and inaccessible posts fall below the number fit for efficient military service, and it is simply an impossibility to guard against this result; and I do hope that Congress will remove the restrictions and give the President discretionary power to keep companies up to a standard ranging between sixty and one hundred privates, according to the nature of service required of the troops. Such a measure would add very much to the efficiency, and would rarely if ever carry the aggregate strength of active army above the standard of 30,000 men now fixed by law. I must again earnestly represent the great necessity that new regulations be provided for the government of the army. I am aware that a competent Board of officers is employed by your orders in the preparation of such a code, and only refer to it on account of its paramount importance, and because daily and hourly I am reminded that the old regulations now in force are begetting habits that will be hard to eradicate, and the sooner old regulations are supplanted the easier will be the task of enforcing the new ones. For like reason I also repeat my recommendation that some uniform system of tactics be adopted, embracing common principles for handling all arms of the service. When brought under a commander, the whole theory of army movements is based upon the fact that one responsible head should control the masses of men, and this cannot be done efficiently where one set of tactics is used for infantry, another for cavalry, and still another for artillery. I am convinced from experience that this is perfectly practicable and easy of execution, and care little whose particular system is adopted as the basis, because other changes will occur in the progress of time, and a beginning is all that is asked for, in some intelligent plan likely to result in ultimate good. By means of the artillery school instruction at Fortress Monroe, without any special cost to the Government, the younger officers of artillery and a due proportion of non-commissioned officers are enabled to fit themselves for that special branch of military service without in the least interrupting the garrison duty of their respective companies.

Mrs. Wharton Removed to Annapolis.

Mrs. Wharton was removed to-day from jail at Baltimore to Annapolis. Her daughter will accompany her and continue to share her imprisonment.

WASHINGTON, December 1, 1871.

THREE PER CENTS CALLED IN.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued an order to the Assistant Treasury at New York, calling in a million and a quarter of three per cent. certificates.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The Internal Revenue receipts to-day were $1,071,164; for November, $6,641,827; for the fiscal year to date, $57,298,981.

DEATH OF AN EDITOR.

W. S. Wallach died this morning at Culpepper, Va., aged about fifty-eight years. He was formerly proprietor and editor of the Washington Evening Star.

NEWS SUMMARY.

BY TELEGRAPH.

The embargo heretofore placed upon the Milwaukee city finances, preventing the issue of more bonds until the outstanding bonded debt had been reduced to $500,000, has at last been raised. The City Comptroller, Wednesday night, made his report to the Common Council giving the welcome intelligence that the bonded debt had been reduced to less than half a million, whereupon it was ordered that one hundred and fifty bonds of $1,000 each at once be issued as the first installment for city water works.

At Memphis, Wednesday midnight, it began snowing and continued incessantly until Thursday noon, the streets being covered to a depth of fully six inches. Sleighs were in demand. Seven inches of snow fell at Little Rock, Arkansas.

Water was introduced into Providence, R. I., Thursday, from the Pawtuxet river.

The Greystone mill in North Providence, R. I., owned by R. W. Cady, and run by Zebulon Whipple, was burned yesterday. The insurances were $30,000 on the mill and machinery, and $5,000 on stock. Loss not ascertained.

Thanksgiving day was generally observed throughout the United States—in the principal cities by an almost total suspension of business, the streets wearing a holiday appearance.

The chime of bells of the Metropolitan Methodist Church in Washington city was dedicated on Thanksgiving day. Among the audience were President Grant and family, Vice-President Colfax and wife, and other prominent persons. The cost of the bells, which is about $14,000, was collected by the pastor's wife.

The United States Hotel, at Newburg, N. Y., was partially burned yesterday morning. Several persons were severely injured by jumping from the windows. Loss $26,000; insurance $15,000.

The California Legislature meets on Monday. Gov. Booth will be inaugurated later in the week.

Ex-Gov. John Bigler died in Sacramento on Wednesday.

A CORRESPONDENT writes us from Hollidaysburg under date of the 30th ult.: "The United States Hotel of this place was burned last night about two o'clock. How the fire originated is more than can be ascertained. The loss is, perhaps, $10,000, on which there is an insurance of $7,000. The loss of this house will be greatly felt by the traveling public, stopping at this place. There has been but one case of small-pox in this borough for some months, and that was fatal. So far we have been remarkably free from the contagion."

EX-MAYOR BLACKMORE'S RECORD.

IS HE FIT TO GOVERN?

Some Startling Facts and Figures.

The Address of the City Executive Committee Substantiated by the Docket Entries.

READ! REFLECT! VOTE!

A few days ago the City Executive Committee published an address to the Republican voters, urging upon them the importance of electing the whole municipal ticket, and especially the candidate for Mayor, since he is opposed not only by an uncompromising Democrat, but by one who proved his utter unfitness for the office during an incumbency of one year—1868. In that address, the Committee charged that during Mayor Blackmore's official term, "thousands of dollars of fines and penalties publicly imposed had been privately remitted, and the offenders thus escaped the punishment of their crimes." This declaration, made with a full knowledge of the facts, has been publicly questioned and denounced as an exaggeration—a mere electioneering trick, to damage Mr. Blackmore and help Mr. Morgan. Let the record of the ex-Mayor speak for itself, and let his friends deny the record if they dare.

During the months of October and November, 1868, as an examination of one of ex-Mayor Blackmore's watch house docket shows, there were five hundred and twenty-one arrests for vagrancy, drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Of this number three hundred and ten were fined or committed, while the unprecedented number of TWO HUNDRED AND ELEVEN were discharged or released, and had their fines REMITTED. TWO-FIFTHS of the whole number arrested during the two months above named, were discharged—not only robbing the treasury of large sums which should have been paid over in the way of fines, but letting the offenders go unpunished. Many of those who had fines remitted were notorious law-breakers—"Mudlarks," as they were named during the last Presidential campaign, when Republican processions could be assaulted with impunity, and when roughs and rowdies of all grades were in high favor at "Mayor's Court."

The two months' record examined was taken at random, forming the first two months in the book handed to our reporter—the year's business filling several books. In addition to ascertaining the actual number of cases fined and committed, as well as discharged, extracts are taken from the docket, showing the disposition of some forty of the cases falling under the head "discharged." Some extraordinary facts are thus developed. In several instances, vehicles were hired by the officers to haul vagrants and drunkards to the lock-up, and these were not only dismissed without fine, but the wagon hire was paid by the amiable Mayor! Bail was taken for fine and costs, and the bail never paid! Counterfeit money and burglars' implements, found upon midnight prowlers, were returned to them, and they set free! Notorious "Mud Larks," who chanced to be brought in—(many were let run who should have been arrested)—were fined twenty-five dollars as a pretence, and in default committed to jail; but in a few days they were released and the fines remitted! Infamous prostitutes were favored by the remission of fines, or discharged without penalty.

READ THE RECORD.

Jerry McCartney, November 29; disorderly conduct; officer Glynn; left $30 for appearance; returned; discharged.

The above is a fair sample of the way in which the laws were administered (!) during Mayor Blackmore's whole term. Do the people want such wanton abuse of power, such shameless disregard of justice, such tampering with thieves and rowdies, such utter inefficiency during the next three years? If they do, let them vote for Blackmore.

REFORM CANDIDATE FOR CITY TREASURER.

In the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny county at No. 369 of September Term, 1870, the bill in equity, printed herewith, was filed, wherein Doctor Joseph Abel, the well known druggist is complainant and J. F. Stark, reform candidate for City Treasury is respondent.

We print the bill entire, as sworn to by Doctor Abel, with the decree of the Court.

Our readers can draw their own inferences without further comment at this time from us.

In the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny county, sitting in equity; Joseph Abel, plaintiff, and Julius F. Stark, defendent.

To the Honorable Judges of said Court:

Your orator complains and says:

1. That on or about the 24th of day of November, A. D., 1866, your orator did enter into a co-partnership with the defendant, Julius F. Stark, for the purpose of carrying on the banking business in the city of Pittsburgh, according to an article of agreement made and executed between them, a copy whereof is attached thereto.

2. That by the terms of said co-partnership, your Orator was to pay in as capital stock the sum of $7,000, and the said J. F. Stark was to pay in the sum of $3,500; the business was to be conducted exclusively by the said J. F. Stark, who was to keep full and correct books of account, and to make out a correct balance sheet every three months, and to submit such balance sheets to your Orator for examination. For his services in conducting the management of the business, said Stark was to receive the sum of $1,800 per annum, to be paid him out of the profits if there should be any, and the remaining profits, if any, were to be divided: two-thirds to your Orator and one-third to the said Stark. The business was to continue for three years from its commencement.

3. That said co-partnership expired on the 24th day of November, A. D. 1869, by limitation.

4. That ever since such expiration of said co-partnership your Orator has been urging the said J. F. Stark to settle up, and render an account of the business, but that he has never rendered any satisfactory account of the same.

5. That after many fruitless efforts on the part of your Orator to get a settlement of the business, said Stark did at last, on or about the 24th of May, 1870, send your Orator a very short and imperfect statement, a copy of which is appended to this petition; and did also send your Orator what purports to be the Ledger and Journal of the said co-partnership, which are now in your Orator's possession, while all the other books, such as cash book, &c., which should have been kept by the said Stark, are still in his possession, if he ever kept any such.

6. That the books have not been kept in a correct, proper or business like manner by the said Stark, but that they are full of errors and imperfect entries that cannot be understood without explanation.

7. That the said Stark has never (since a very short time after the commencement of the partnership), had $3,500 of capital in the business, as by the article of copartnership he was bound to have.

8. That said Stark has erroneously credited himself with the sum of $5,400, for salary, while yet, according to the statement made by him, there was no profit, but only loss, so that by the terms of copartnership he is not entitled to make any such charge.

9. That according to the statement made by the said Stark, all of the capital stock put into the business has been lost except about $100, which the said Stark now holds in his possession, while your Orator charges and verily believes, that upon a fair and correct statement of the partnership accounts, the said Stark will be found to be largely indebted to your Orator.

10. Your Orator therefore prays for equitable relief:

That an account be taken of all the partnership dealings and transactions.

That a decree of your Honorable Court may be given in favor of your Orator, and against the said J. F. Stark, for such amount as he may be found, upon a correct statement of an account, to be indebted to your Orator; and

That your Honors grant unto your Orator such other and further relief in the premises, as justice will require.
JOSEPH ABEL.

Allegheny County, S. S.

I, Joseph Abel, the above named complainant, do depose and say, that the foregoing bill of complaint, and the allegations therein contained, are true, as I verily believe.
JOSEPH ABEL.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 8th day of July, A. D. 1870.
JACOB H. WALTER, Prothonotary.

DECREE.

And now August 27, 1870, this cause came on to be heard at this term, it appearing to the Court that the defendant has had due and timely notice thereof and said defendant not appearing the case was argued by plaintiff's counsel, and thereupon upon consideration thereof it is ordered, adjudged and decreed as follows:

That the bill filed by the plaintiff and all the allegations therein set forth, be taken as true as against the defendant, and E. B. Todd, Esq., is hereby appointed master in chancery to make and state an account, and report the amount due from the defendant to the plaintiff.
By the Court.

From the record.
[Seal C. P.] JOSEPH ROSS, Prothonotary.

The master reported that Stark had never put his share of the capital into the business as he was bound to do by the articles of co-partnership.

CARD FROM B. W. MORGAN.

The "Morgan-Brush" Interview.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

I have thus far studiously refrained from any notice of the slanders daily circulated concerning me by the opposition press. But I deem it a duty I owe to myself and friends to briefly state the facts touching an interview with Mayor Brush at his office on Thursday last, relative to a certain letter received by him, and purporting to be written by one "John D. Thomp—," of the Twenty-first ward, Pittsburgh.

This letter or document, as I understand it, charges me with the grossest public defamation of Mr. Brush and certain members of his family, and also with assaulting Mr. Patterson, his clerk, in the same style, while canvassing in that ward. I called at the Mayor's office, on Thursday, to ascertain if the Mayor had found out the real author of the letter, or had succeeded in getting a clue to him. In reply to my inquiry, he said he had not as yet done so, but he believed it to be true! I then pronounced the statements in the letter to be in every particular false, and the author of the letter a base liar and scoundrel, and I now publicly brand him so. At this language, expressive of the natural indignation I felt, the Mayor appeared to take offense, and I left the office of my own accord. I had a conveyance in waiting to go out in search of the author, but neither the Mayor nor his clerk seemed disposed to accompany me for the purpose of confronting him. For the truth of what is here stated, I respectfully refer the public to Mr. James Montooth and Mr. Howell Jones, who were present and heard what occurred.

I now state that the most diligent search has failed to discover such an individual as "John D. Thomp——" or Thompson in the Twenty-first ward, and that the whole document is a forgery of the clumsiest description, and the name signed to it bogus, and that the statements therein, one and all, are falsehoods out of the whole cloth. My only surprise is that Mayor Brush should so readily be imposed upon by such a palpable fraud.

In conclusion, if I can obtain sufficient legal evidence to convict this anonymous libeler, I shall, whether elected or not, promptly hand him over to the tender mercies of the law for the punishment he so richly deserves. Respectfully,
B. W. MORGAN.

THANKSGIVING EPISODE.

A Southern Bachelor Carries Away a Northern Belle—The Marriage—Scenes and Incidents.

Among all the pleasing incidents occurring on Thanksgiving Day, none took precedence of the gorgeous wedding which occurred in the quiet village of Alpsville, on the line of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad. For some time it was known that a gentleman from Memphis, Tennessee, had become a worshipper at the shrine of Northern female beauty and was about to marry and bear away to his sunny home one of our fairest and most gifted daughters. Who the happy Southerner and who the Northern maiden were was for some time a mystery. But it was solved by the distribution of handsomely embellished cards, inviting the friends of the parties to meet at the residence of Captain N. J. Bigley, the widely known coal dealers, on Thanksgiving Day, at which time his daughter, Miss Mollie Bigley, would be united in the holy bonds of matrimony to J. A. Smith, Esq., of Memphis, Tennessee.

Captain Bigley, who never does anything by halves, placed at the disposal of the invited guests from the city a special train of cars, which left the depot at eight o'clock in the morning carrying away a happy throng of sedate wives and husbands; joyous young maidens and gallant young men. "All aboard" was shouted by the genial and efficient conductor, Thomas Drake, and soon the train was speeding on its way. All along the line of the road additions were made to the gay party, which upon the arrival of the train at Alpsville, amounted to about one hundred. Nearing the village the bell of the church sent forth a merry peal which reverberated over and back of the hills that overlook the village, announcing that the appointed time for the marriage ceremony had arrived.

After a short delay the guests repaired to the church, situated a short distance from the residence of Captain Bigley, and built mainly through the munificence of that gentleman. But a few moments intervened ere the bridal party arrived and entered the church, preceded by Captain Bigley and his estimable wife, followed by the bridesmaids and groomsmen flanked by the bride and groom, who passed up the aisle and took their positions in front of the altar. The church was tastefully decorated, as was Mr. Bigley's residence, by the skillful hands of Mr. Elliot, florist, of Market street. The fair bride was attired in a white satin dress, richly and elaborately trimmed with a court train. We need say nothing more than that she was tastefully and becomingly dressed, and when kneeling before the altar pledging her vows of love and troth she looked a perfect Hebe. The bridesmaids, Miss Lottie Hook, of Columbia, Pa., Miss Smith, of Memphis, and Miss Kate Bigley, were handsomely costumed in white tarleton. The groomsmen, Dr. Swentzell, Mr. Andrew Bigley and Mr. Grace, were in full evening dress. The groom, as all grooms should be, was attired in a suit of faultless black, and seemed to feel conscious that he was about to receive a rich prize in the matrimonial lottery.

As the happy party entered the church Mendelsshon's wedding march was performed on the organ and harp, Miss Jennie McGraw at the organ and Prof. H. Morgan, late of London, at the harp. The ladies and gentlemen composing the choir were selected with great care from the male and female musicians of St. Philomena's, Trinity, St. Augustine's and St. Peter's Catholic churches, among whom we noticed the following: Mr. Seager, leader; Mr. Frank Walker, Mr. Robert McGraw and Mr. Averman, tenors; Misses Conley, Loeffler, Volmer and Feltwell, bass; Miss Schuttinger, Miss Donahue and Mrs. Butler, soprani; Mrs. Holler, Miss Lizzie Cooley and Master Smith, alto; harpist, Prof. H. Morgan; organist, Prof. Bruggleman. We cannot dismiss the choir without a passing tribute to the artistic manner in which it acquitted itself, particularly in that beautiful, difficult and impressive Twelfth Mass of Mozart's.

The marriage ceremony was conducted by Bishop Domenec, assisted by Fathers Kerney, Ward, Nolan and May, the latter the present pastor, who recently succeeded Father Ward, a gentleman universally respected in the vicinity of Alpsville. From first to last the scene was solemn and imposing, and at no time more so than when the eloquent Bishop addressed the wedded pair, telling them that in the view of the holy Catholic Church marriage was a divine institution, and once performed by a duly delegated person, no power on earth could dissolve it—that power belonged to God alone. The Bishop concluded his remarks by invoking the divine blessing upon the newly married couple.

The ceremony and Mass over, the guests repaired to the mansion of Captain Bigley, where they were entertained in a princely manner. At about four o'clock in the afternoon the special train called for the wedding guests, and soon the party, accompanied by the bride and groom, were being rapidly whirled back to the city. Having safely arrived, a number of intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Smith repaired to the residence of Dr. McMeal, on Grant street, where they were handsomely entertained. The bridal party left early on Friday morning for Memphis. One of the most pleasing incidents connected with the day was on the departure of the train from Alpsville, when the hardy sons of toil, many of whom had known the bride from her infancy, made the welkin ring with three times three for the late Miss Mollie Bigley—now Mrs. Mollie Smith.

KILLED ON THE RAILROAD.

A Conductor Meets his Death Suddenly—The Coroner's Jury Find a Just Verdict.

On Thanksgiving day, J. Lynch, a conductor on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, met with his death at the outer depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The deceased was superintending the shifting of some cars, and was standing on the forward part of the front car. The engine had just cut loose, and when the car on which he was standing passed over the switch, Lynch was jolted from his position, and fell to the ground. He fell diagonally across the track, and before he was discovered ten or twelve freight cars passed over his body. The left foot was cut off, and the wheels of the cars passed diagonally across the abdomen, severing the body in two. The mutilated remains were gathered together and placed in a coffin and then conveyed to the residence of deceased in Middle alley, near Samson street, Allegheny. The deceased was probably about twenty-eight years of age, and leaves a wife and child. He had been employed on the road for some time, and had the reputation of being a careful and efficient conductor. Coroner West held an inquest on the body and the jury rendered a verdict "that the deceased came to his death through the negligence of the Railroad Company in running their trains at a faster speed than allowed by law."

That Robbery.

On a previous occasion we noticed the arrest of a young man giving the name of Bracken, in Philadelphia, on a charge of larceny. Subsequently it was ascertained that the prisoner had stolen a trunk from the depot at Beatty's Station, the property of Mr. D. C. Bracken. Information of the affair was made before a Greensburg Justice of the Peace, and a warrant was issued directed to Mr. Fred. Rivers, of the detective force of this city. Mr. Rivers left for Philadelphia on Tuesday, and on Thursday landed the prisoner in the Greensburg jail. Mr. Rivers states that the officers in Philadelphia showed him every courtesy, and that he had no trouble in effecting his purpose. The accused gives his name as J. Webster Braken. He has been committed for trial.

The Ormsby Railway.

The Ormsby Passenger Railway although a new institution, having been in operation but a few months, is one of the best managed street railways in the city, and, as a consequence, its business is rapidly increasing. It is supplied with new cars of Stephenson's make, the best now in use, and in fact the very best cars in the country. The seats have recently been covered with Brussels carpet, and, we are informed, that the President, Mr. Atterbury, has perfected, and is about to put in each car a heating aparatus, which, if it succeeds will be a great comfort to the traveling community. The cars are now the most comfortable in the city, and with a perfect heating aparatus will be far in advance of all others.

A LADY made a narrow escape from almost instant death yesterday, on Smithfield street. She was passing by Mellon's new building while the workmen were hoisting a large stone to the upper part of the house; the rope broke and the stone came crashing through a scaffolding and alighted just a few feet from her. As it was, the only damage fortunately was done to the stone.

Sixteenth Ward Correspondence.

J. J. ALBEITZ, ESQ., Secretary of Enterprise Insurance Company, City—Dear Sir:—As we are competitors for the office of Select Council as representatives of the Sixteenth ward of this city, I deem it important to the interests of the people of the Sixteenth ward that the man best suited to represent their varied wants and interests should receive their support at the ballot-box on next Tuesday, December 5, 1871. To enable them to make their decision intelligently, without any outside influence being brought upon them, directly or indirectly, to divert their opinions from their own individual and collective interests, I would therefore most respectfully invite you to meet the people of the first precinct of the Sixteenth ward at their school house on next Saturday evening, at half-past seven o'clock, and those of the second precinct at the Bloomfield school house on next Monday evening, at the same hour, to compare our individual official records in our City Councils during the present year, and lay before them our respective claims for their support. I would be pleased to receive your answer to the communication in writing by the bearer, Mr. Henry Nichols.

With respects, I am, sirs, yours truly,
R. H. SMITH.

PITTSBURGH, November 29, 1871.

To this J. J. Albeitz, Esq., sent the following reply, verbally:

J. J. Albeitz, Esq., told me in Alderman O'Donnell's office, that he did not recognize R. H. Smith in this matter.

J. H. Jones, Esq., late candidate for City Treasurer, was present at the time.
HENRY NICHOLLS.

The Ben. Franklin.

Since the Chicago conflagration the business of all safe and reliable fire insurance companies has been rapidly increasing, and no company in this locality has received a greater share of the business than the Ben. Franklin, a home company, and one of the most ably and judiciously managed in the country. The Board of Directors is composed of active business men, and the business of the company is transacted by men of experience, so that neither the capital of the stockholders nor the security of its policy holders are endangered by unsafe and hazardous risks. The Ben Franklin had no risks in Chicago at the time of the fire, and the company does not take many large risks in any one locality, so that it is not likely to ever suffer to any great extent by one conflagration. It is one of the best and safest companies for farmers as well as for our citizens to insure in, and many of them seeing this fact are making themselves secure against the ravages of fire by taking out policies in the Ben. Franklin. The office of the company is located at No. 16 West Ohio street, Allegheny, where good risks will be taken at fair and reasonable rates, and the public should remember what many have learned by bitter experience that the companies which insure at the lowest rates are not always the safest, or in other words that the cheapest is not always the best.

Rare Chance for Investments,

Which will pay outlay back in four to ten months. Will bear the closest scrutiny. Can be no misrepresentation as to income, as all the production is run through Pipe Line Company, and their books show actual production and amount sold. To young men with small capital and energy no better opportunity is ever offered to embark in a paying business, with an income from the start, as the following property. Titles perfect.

TWO OIL WELLS above Milford Farm, producing ten to twelve barrels a day. One-eighth royalty. May by torpedo be increased. Two good Engines and Boilers; 980 feet Tubing and 300 feet Casing in each well; everything in good order. Price $6,000; one-third cash, balance in 2, 4 and 6 months. At present price of oil the wells will more than pay these payments.

Also, TWO WELLS near Lawrenceburg, producing about seven barrels daily. Royalty one-sixth. In good order. Production no doubt will last for years. Price $3,750; half cash, balance in payments.

Also, THREE WELLS, producing fifteen barrels—one five barrels—with eleven Acres; good leases; surrounded by large producing wells—some over 100 barrels a day. Three Acre lease near well doing over 200 barrels. By judicious management the production of these wells could be increased easily to fifty barrels a day. Price $14,000; One-third cash.

Also, three-fourths of well and lease four Acres; one-sixth royalty; production ten barrels. One-eighth royalty of two Acres Milford Farm. Two-thirds well producing ten barrels; one-fourth royalty. Three-fourths of well now boring; one-sixth royalty; to be completed. Half of well now boring; one-sixth royalty; to be completed—(these two wells are going down on very promising territory.) Three-tenths of well and thirty-five Acre lease at one-tenth royalty. Two hundred Acres in fee simple; a very desirable farm, located on branch of Bear Creek. The whole of one well doing over fifty barrels a day—one-sixth royalty—with a lease not surpassed in the whole Oil Regions, on which five wells could be put down so as not to interfere; either of which would not be under fifty barrels. An adjoining well did for some time over 200 barrels a day. Price of whole $80,000; $10,000 cash, balance $5,000 per month till all is paid. Without any increased production from new wells to be completed, the present production at the lowest price for oil will pay the monthly payments. Have also about twenty other wells, prices varying from $2,000 upwards.

Also, a large number of Tracts of Land in fee simple or on lease.

Parties wishing to invest will call on or address HERBST & MURRAY, Box 333, Parker's Landing, Pa.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE
OF
COON & CROMLOW'S
Planing Mill Property.

On WEDNESDAY, the 3d day of January, 1872, commencing at 10 A. M., I will sell at Public Auction, on the Premises, all the right, title and interest of E. N. Coon, surviving partner of the late firm of Coon & Cromlow, Bankrupt, of, in and to the following described Real Estate, situate in West Brownsville, Washington county, Pa., to wit: Lots Nos. 86, 87 and 88, in the plan of said Borough, having together a front of 180 feet on Water street and extending back 140 feet to Middle street, on which are erected a large Planing Mill, with all necessary Machinery and Fixtures, a small Dwelling House and Outbuildings.

Also, a certain Wharf extending from low water mark in the Monongahela river back to Water street, and fronting on said river 170 feet, being opposite to Lots Nos. 85 and 86 and the end of Broadway street in said Borough.

Also, two certain other Lots of Ground in said Borough, to wit: Lots Nos. 90 and 91 in the plan thereof, having thereon erected a Frame Building one and one-half stories high, with a Shed attached.

The above Property will be sold as a whole or in separate parcels, as may be determined on the day of sale, subject to the payment to the widow of John Gregg, deceased, of the interest semi-annually on $1,667 97, and of said principal sum to the heirs of the said John Gregg, deceased, after her death.

Terms—One-third cash, and the balance in two equal instalments, payable in six and twelve months, respectively, with interest from the date of sale, to be secured by bond and mortgage on the premises.

CITY TICKET

MAYOR.
BENJAMIN W. MORGAN.
TREASURER.
CHRISTOPHER L. MAGEE.
CONTROLLER.
ROBERT J. McGOWAN.

Mr. M. F. Egan has been appointed Business Manager of the Commercial, and is authorized to transact business for and in the name of the Company.

CAPTAIN MORGAN in his card herewith printed, disposes of one of the "last cards" which his opponents have put in circulation for the purpose of prejudicing him with the public and alienating personal friends. The author of the slander, after diligent search, cannot be found, and had better remain in his hiding place, wherever it may be.

THE friends of BLACKMORE have applied to the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas for the appointment of overseers of election in the several wards. The list, with one exception is made up solely of known BLACKMORE men; and the design instead of insuring fairness is to promote Mr. BLACKMORE's chances. If overseers are to be appointed at all, or the Court has any such power, it is but reasonable that the matter should be held over till all sides are heard, and proper names suggested. Monday will be early enough and by that time the several wards will have an opportunity to act.

THE Republicans of the Fifth ward, which is the Democratic stronghold, have little chance for themselves so far as the local offices are concerned. The best they can do is to choose discreetly between the candidates of the opposition, who have on their hands a pretty fight on Alderman. It may be in their power to decide the question on this officer. To make sure of getting all their votes in they should make a special point of voting early—before the rush, which is not always the most agreeable in this ward, commences. Though in a hopeless minority, they have it in their power to contribute their full share on the Mayoralty, and the first thing in order is early voting. By noon the entire Republican vote of the Fifth ward should be polled. It was here that BLACKMORE's efficiency as preserver of the peace was conspicuously displayed, and Republicans should be prompt in registering their protest against him.

WHAT PEOPLE?

BLACKMORE proclaims himself as "The People's Candidate." What kind of People? The question is a fair one. Referring to his docket we find what classes ought, out of common gratitude, to be for him. If fines "remitted" and frequent discharges from custody entitle a candidate to support, then BLACKMORE should have the zealous support of a considerable body of voters—at least as many of them as are yet out of the Penitentiary and Workhouse. What people?—we ask again. Are they the peace-loving, law-abiding citizens who hear with concern of the growth of rowdyism and villainy in our city? Are they the business men and tax-payers who see the tax-rate growing year by year from recklessness and incompetency in office? Heads of families who sometims tremble lest the maelstrom of vice draw in victims from their own firesides,—do they want a Mayor who will give increased velocity to its dreadful whirl by remitting the fines, and discharging from custody, by the dozen daily, the worst of offenders? "The People's Candidate" forsooth!

BLACKMORE AS AN ARTILLERIST.

In the GRANT campaign of 1868, when the Mudlarks of the Bull Run District undertook to dispute the passage of GRANT processions, and Mayor BLACKMORE proposed that citizens should ground arms before them, a shotted cannon was planted at the junction of Webster and Tunnel streets, while Mudlarks lurked in their near hiding places ready to discharge it into the ranks of, or otherwise operate against, any body of citizens who should dare to remove it. Although Mayor BLACKMORE's attention was called to it, he did nothing whatever. The Mudlarks were his "friends," the same as the rioters in New York were Governor SEYMOUR's, and they are his supporters now. The reminiscence is instructive, especially in view of the approaching Presidential election. If citizens want a repetition of this weak-kneed policy, and feel like licensing the Mudlarks to rule the city in the next Presidential campaign, they should by all means go for BLACKMORE for Mayor.

RINGING HIS OWN BELL.

The friends of the "amiable" Mr. BLACKMORE paraded on the streets Thanksgiving day with a four horse team, a big bell, transparency devices, etc. The object of the pageant was to collect a crowd and inform the people who is the "People's Candidate" for Mayor. The crowd did not come, notwithstanding the fact that the bell made a loud noise and the weather was fine. Now if BLACKMORE is good at anything besides "amiability," it is on the parade. We all remember the exceptionally excellent parades of the police force in full uniform during his administration, and candor compels us to say the men of the force generally looked well and marched well. BLACKMORE never appeared to better advantage than on these interesting occasions, at the head of our well dressed police force. We repeat, BLACKMORE is in his element on the occasion of a police parade. But somehow, the thing did not go off well on Thursday last. "The people's candidate for Mayor" was well painted in good large letters; but unfortunately for the "amiable" gentleman, it suggested disagreeable reminiscences. The baton of office is a good thing to hold in times of peace, and the "amiable" ex-Mayor is and has been for many years very eager to grasp it and hold it tight. But swords and muskets are his abomination. "Had it not been for that villainous saltpetre" he would himself "have been a soldier." So it was that during the rebellion the "amiable" did not shine in the parade. He was decided against all parades of a military character. "The People's Candidate" was not a candidate for military honors. He was a very sound Democrat, and did all he could for the party which opposed Mr. LINCOLN's administration. So far as is known he never in his life voted a Republican ticket. Every earnest, active Republican is the political enemy of the "amiable" Mr. BLACKMORE, and his personal friendship has never to our knowledge been strong enough to induce him to vote for one. He was a BUCHANAN Democrat, a SEYMOUR Democrat, a McCLELLAN Democrat; is now a Democrat, and has not a wish or a thought in sympathy with the party which saved the country, by rescuing it from the hands of traitors, at the expense of hundreds of thousands of lives and thousands of millions of money. We advise Manager ELLSLER, of the New Opera House, to get up a piece, with this title: "BLACKMORE, the People's Candidate for Mayor of Pittsburgh, 1871," with the low comedian in the title role. If the days of burlesque have not passed, we are sure the thing would go handsomely.

IN RE CITY TREASURER.

The above entitled case is not, it is true, in any of the courts having legal jurisdiction, but it is in the court of the people—the political court—and on Tuesday next the people will be called upon to decide between the parties. The parties have each put themselves upon the country, and the verdict which will be rendered will show which has meritorious claims.

It is alleged by the Democratic journals—the Post and Volksblatt—and by one or two Republican, or what seems fashionable now, quasi Republican journals, that Mr. STARK is a good, reliable man, and would make an efficient Treasurer. We have some evidence we want to offer to prove the contrary, by referring to proceedings in equity, at No. 229, of September term, 1870, Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny county, Jos. ABEL versus J. F. STARK. In the bill filed in this case, which we print entire in another column, Dr. ABEL asserts—and the defendant STARK does not deny, "that your orator (ABEL) has been urging said STARK to settle up and render an account of the business, but that he has never rendered any satisfactory account of the same." "That said STARK never kept any cash books, &c.," such as a prudent and careful business man should have done, and never rendered any account as he was required by the articles of copartnership to do." The Master reports that he never had any money in the firm, of his own, as ABEL supposed. By reference to Bouvier's Law Dictionary—good authority—a defaulter is defined to be "a person who fails as to that, which he in good faith ought to do." It will appear, therefore, that Mr. STARK is not a good business man at least, if it is not shown that he is not just the man to take charge of other people's money. He was engaged, too, as Dr. ABEL alleges, and STARK does not deny, in financial operations, and the doctor's experience as to his ability is severely adverse to anything flattering to Mr. STARK's financial ability. It cost the doctor $7,000, a law suit, and any amount of trouble to learn this fact, but he knows it well, and will not vote for Mr. STARK for City Treasurer.

It is pretty near the time when men who aspire to responsible offices should be known by the public. It is a mistaken leniency that closes the doors against inquiry into their character and fitness, and it is a false pretense to give them high reputations for honesty and ability when they have neither. No citizen of Pittsburgh who takes any interest in the safe and efficient management of its financial affairs, should at all countenance the election of incompetent men.

The other gentleman who is before the people for election, Mr. MAGEE, is remarkably different from Mr. STARK. He has held for years an important position in the Treasurer's office, and even meddlesome suspicion has never whispered one word against his integrity or efficiency. His qualifications and fitness are universally conceded, and his election is a foregone conclusion.

STARK's friends all know and admit that he stands no chance. He is set up to aid the OAKEY HALL candidate, JAMES BLACKMORE. BLACKMORE's friends conceived the scheme of making no party nominations, and in order to capture Republican votes, set up STARK, who is willing to be buffeted to please BLACKMORE, and BLACKMORE is willing to buffet anybody to secure his own election. Why, he has promised all the positions in his doubtfully prospective gift to recalcitrant Republicans. What can "the faithful" expect under these circumstances?

Republicans, stand from under. This small scheme to beat our regular nominees, like all other confidence games, should be indignantly rebuked, and the way to do it is to elect by a large majority MORGAN, MAGEE and McGOWAN.

REASONS FOR ELECTING CAPT. MORGAN MAYOR.

A gentleman who says that he is not a party man, (we should like to know what political principles he professes,) writes to request us to say on what "grounds of qualifications and claims" we give our support to Captain MORGAN for the Mayoralty. Assuming that the inquiry is made in good faith, we do not hesitate to answer it. We support Mr. MORGAN—

1st. Because he is the fairly and regularly nominated candidate of the Republican party and entitled to the support of every Republican, unless some reason can be shown to the contrary. No such reason has been shown—none such can be shown.

2d. Captain MORGAN served his country in her hour of trial, and made for himself a record of faithful, honorable, and even distinguished service in the army during the rebellion. He has a claim on us as a patriot and good soldier, a claim which we heartily recognize.

3d. Captain MORGAN has ever been an active, earnest, hard-working Republican, and entitled to the fullest recognition as such.

4. We believe that he will make an honest and efficient Mayor. We believe he will keep the peace, and never beg the Republican party nor the Democratic party either to discontinue political meetings or torchlight processions, because they tend to the disturbance of the public peace. We do not believe that he will ever capitulate to ruffians and Mudlarks, but will enforce the laws by virtue of the powers of his office. His record as a member of the Select Council is an earnest of an honest, economical and efficient administration of the city government in so far as the powers and duties of Mayor are concerned.

5th. Capt. MORGAN by his industry, energy and temperate habits, has raised himself, by his own unassisted efforts, to a position in which his abilities, services and character are publicly recognized by the Republican party, by making him their standard-bearer in the present contest. He has force of character, will be independent, and follow the dictates of his own judgment—and we have confidence in his judgment.

For these reasons we support Capt. MORGAN for Mayor, and advise the Republicans of the city to give him their united support. We advise our correspondent to do the same.

IMPORTANCE OF OUR RIVER NAVIGATION.

Geographers set down the area of the Mississippi basin at one million three hundred thousand square miles—a superficies more than six times greater than that of imperial France. It is the largest in the world, except that of the Amazon, to which it is nevertheless greatly superior in a great many respects. The basin of the Amazon is equatorial in situation, and subject to the insalubrious influences universally incident to that locality. That of the Mississippi lies entirely within the temperate zone, within those lines of latitude most favorable to human improvement; extending from the twenty-ninth to the forty-seventh parallel; possessing every variety of climate, from the tropical to the frigid; spreading out more than thirty degrees in longitude; covered with a soil generally rich for tillage, plentifully underlaid in various parts with minerals of far greater utility than gold; bounded east and west by mountain ranges, which with the undulations of the intervening regions intersected everywhere by winding streams and diversified by wood-lands, present an infinite variety of scenery—altogether constituting an assemblage of advantages existing nowhere else on earth.

The products of a territory so immense and fruitful are necessarily varied and abundant, inviting exchanges which benefit both producer and consumer in proportion to the cheapness of their transportation. This is especially true of some of the prime necessaries of life, such as coal, lumber, iron ore, limestone, salt, grain, provisions, wood, bark, and, in short, of all articles where the cost of transportation constitutes a principal share of the price to the consumer. It is in this view that the navigable waters of the Mississippi valley appear of the utmost importance. They are nature's cheap avenues of intercourse, fashioned by the same hand that spread out the fairest portion of the continent for the use of man, and were the highways by which the pioneers of the West penetrated the solitudes through which they wound their silent course. They seem especially adapted to the interchange of the abounding commodities of the great valley, which can be accomplished upon them for one-fourth the necessary charge by any artificial carriage. A single example sufficiently illustrates their unrivaled importance. The cost of coal is five cents at the pit's mouth. All above this sum, paid by the consumer, is made up of transportation.

But like most of the gifts of the Creator, these highways require the thought and labor of man to bring out their entire utility. The soil and seed are provided, but the ground must be tilled—increase cannot be had without toil. Minerals are stored in the earth, but they must be searched for and quarried. Thus, without exertion, little is provided for convenience or comfort—neither shelter, raiment, nor food. "God helps those who help themselves." He furnishes the means, but mind and effort are needed to utilize them. Were it otherwise, there would be no stimulus to develop intellect and induce discoveries.

Mr. W. MILNOR ROBERTS, of our own city, has given more attention to the Ohio with reference to its navigable capabilities, than any other engineer. He expresses not a doubt of the entire feasibility of rendering it at all times fit for the use of the ordinary river craft. In his final report, to the proper department at Washington, he takes an elaborate view of the various methods that have been suggested for this purpose, and give facts and conclusions which place the question beyond cavil, with no other difficulty in the way of realizing a continuous navigation, but that of its cost.

Thus one of the greatest blessings to this mighty valley—cheap and perennial means of intercommunication—can be possessed, and its advantages shared by the people everywhere, if general attention and earnest exertion be given to the subject. Mr. ROBERTS says in his report: "The commercial navigation intercourse between the upper and lower Ohio is at all times very intimate; and where the water is at a medium, or any higher stage, the falls being practically obliterated it becomes one river, navigable from Pittsburgh to Cairo; not only to Cairo, but to New Orleans, and to the Upper Mississippi and the Missouri. It is then all one great river navigation, the grandest in the world."

To make it continually thus useful, is what can, and undoubtedly will be, effected. Let the subject be generally pressed upon public attention. The whole nation is interested in it. If coal and ores are brought together at small cost, so will all the essentials of cheap living so abundantly produced in this teeming basin. Then will the mighty forces generated by these elements be brought more extensively into activity, performing the work of additional millions of hands, diffusing comfort and enjoyment, increasing wealth and population, strengthening love of home and country, and fastening still closer the bonds of mutual interest which hold this vast republic under one government.

MR. BLACKMORE AS MAYOR.

The records of the Mayor's office in the period when the "amiable" BLACKMORE was Chief Magistrate of the city exhibit a very curious and interesting history. In order to obtain authentic information on the subject our reporter visited the Mayor's office yesterday, and we give on another page the results of his investigation. The examination did not cover the whole period of Mr. BLACKMORE's incumbency. That would have required more time than could be given to the subject, and more space than we could well spare to-day. The examination was confined to the two months of November and December, 1868, and the facts extracted from the records for these two months will enable the public to form an approximate estimate of the number of cases in which prisoners were discharged and fines and costs remitted during the term of the "amiable" as Mayor of the city.

In the months above mentioned there were three hundred and ten committals and two hundred and eleven discharges. In the cases of fines and costs remitted, the reader, if he has been paying any attention to the police reports of the city, will recognize names very well known at the Mayor's office. Some of these persons have disappeared from the city under the efficient administration of Mayor Brush; others have been in prison often since, and supply a good deal of the work which our policemen have to do. We commend the perusal of the list to the correspondent of the Gazette, who gave the results of his investigation of the subject in that paper on Thursday last. Let an unprejudiced public read and ponder the facts obtained by our reporter and pass judgment on Mayor BLACKMORE's administration of the law.

To say that he was a weak and inefficient officer; that he allowed notorious offenders to escape punishment, for reasons not explained by the Mayor's docket; that fines and penalties were diverted from the public treasury during his administration by a mere act of official will, is not to state the most serious features of the case. The Mayor of Pittsburgh has no authority to remit fines or penalties. When a conviction has been adjudged the case is quite out of his power. The power of pardon rests with the Governor alone, as every citizen moderately well informed knows. But it seems that our "amiable" ex-Mayor was almost every day of his term exercising a power which the law has not committed to any judicial magistrate in Pennsylvania, even the highest. If Mr. BLACKMORE was ignorant of the extent of the powers of the Mayor, if he fancied himself to be a little King with powers restricted by no limits but those which "amiability" imposes, he was a very unfit person to be Chief Magistrate of this city. If he acted from motives of partiality, favor or political interest, he deserves a still severer condemnation.

Again we invite the attention of the public to the facts taken from the docket kept by the ex-Mayor or his own clerk, and invoke the dispassionate judgment of all thinking men. In any case we have had too much of Mr. BLACKMORE as Mayor. A little of him goes a great way. Let us have energy and efficiency in the Mayor's office within the limits of the law. Let us have justice tempered with mercy.

THE ARABIAN NIGHTS AND THE DAILY NEWSPAPERS.

While certain American papers are filled with reports of demonstrations in honor of the Grand Duke ALEXIS, it is interesting to read the statements of eye-witnesses concerning the festivities and other displays by which the distant subjects of the Czar expressed their pleasure in his presence among them during a recent visit to his Trans-Caucasian provinces. Tiflis, as the reader may know, is the capital city of Georgia in Asiatic Russia, and, indeed, of all Russian Trans-Caucasia, and the people of Tiflis especially distinguished themselves by their fete. In his progress through Georgia the Czar was accompanied by the Grand Duke MICHEL, Governor of the country, and by his sons, the CZAREWITCH and the Grand Duke VLADIMIR. His reception by the people was of the most enthusiastic description, and was marked by those exhibitions of barbaric splendor, which are so much in the Asiatic taste and which only Asiatics know how to get up in perfection. But all these displays were thrown into the shade by the festival by which the Emperor returned the compliments he had received. A magnificent tent in a garden was the appropriate scene of the entertainment given to the nobles of Georgia, where, after the feast, the ladies in becoming costume were presented to his Majesty by his brother. Full details enable us to form some notion of the scene, which it is impossible to reproduce in a few words. It is enough to say that the narrative is more like a chapter in the Arabian nights than like a passage in a contemporary newspaper reporting actual facts. Georgians, Circassians, Lesghans, Tartars, Persians, Kurdes, Turks, Russians, Germans, English, Greeks, Austrians, Prussians, French, the representatives of each nationality in the dress or uniform of their own country, formed an exhibition truly picturesque, and such a combination of Eastern and Western elements, such a mixture of barbarism and civilization as is no longer possible outside of Russia. An obviously just comment on the affair is the remark that it was all appropriate. With whatever feelings, hostile or friendly, spectators may have looked upon the exhibition, no one questioned its fitness. The Emperor was among his own subjects, and the entire demonstration was intended to express in a strong way the sentiments becoming their political and religious relationship. The highest representative of earthly and divine power, the center of their civil life, was present and visible to them, and no enthusiasm with which they could greet him seemed to the people assembled, either extravagant or out of place. One can easily believe that there may have been neither hypocrisy, nor sham, nor self-forgetfulness in the entire series of ceremonies and spectacles by which the subjects and the sovereign honored each other. No such belief is possible in regard to the honors which some of our cities are showering upon the Grand Duke. There is no harmony, no just relation between the feeling entertained and the mode of expression employed. Mere good will, one of the mildest, not to say one of the feeblest sentiments finds utterance in terms which usage has appropriated to the most powerful and energetic emotions of the human heart. Acts and language adapted and customarily employed to manifest loyalty the most enthusiastic and gratitude the most glowing are used to indicate a feeling not strong enough to prompt the most ordinary acts of self-abnegation. Prince ALEXIS by all accounts is not only a most worthy young gentleman, but gifted intellectually and well educated. Doubtless he has been carefully instructed in modern history and in the characteristics of the various nations of the world. There is, therefore, no danger that he will misunderstand the demonstrations of which he is the object. It is, however, a pity that while traveling among the great American people he has occasion so early in life to mark the contrast between their hearts and the manifestation of them, between their professions and their performances. In Russia, as in other countries of the old world, young ladies who should display the eagerness to see and get near a Prince which some young American ladies of unimpeachable worth and respectability display in the case of ALEXIS, would be regarded as excessively loyal or something worse. Though there is no reason to think that either the Prince or the members of his suite misconstrue the zeal of our countrywomen; it is impossible to believe that they either admire or are flattered by such enthusiasm. But this is only one of the displeasing and regretable manifestations which expose our social state to misconstruction and contempt. However welcome the friendship of the nation may be to the Grand Duke, it is impossible to believe that young gentleman born to his high estate, and accustomed to the homage of the most elevated society of European capitals, can be much flattered by the extraordinary attentions which he is receiving in this country. If the attentions meant what they seem to mean, not exactly loyalty but a degree of devotion to the Royal House of Russia which would insure alliance in war against any of its many enemies, the Prince might be presumed delighted with them in spite of the fearful fatigue and manifold annoyances which they involve. But no such illusion is possible, we trust in, his case, and hence we may safely assume that the superfluous courtesies inflicted upon him, are as much a weariness to the spirit as to the flesh, besides seriously interfering with the chief object of his visit, the careful study of our institutions and the observation of our manners in their normal condition.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

It is stated upon high authority that the Secretary of War proposes to ask Congress to increase the army of the United States to somewhere near its standing previous to the late reduction. As this reduction was made by Congress without the recommendations of either the President or Secretary of War, their opinion for an increase will undoubtedly be given due consideration. Whether that body at the time anticipated the condition of things in the country which has occurred since their last session, is not certain, but the facts which will be presented to them in order to warrant this increase are: that the United States troops are now occupied in executing the Ku-Klux law, suppressing Indian hostilities, and preserving the peace, while the law is also being executed in breaking up the system of polygamy in Utah.

In view of the proposition for reviving the Joint Select Committee on Retrenchment, the question of its chairman is beginning to be agitated. Senator Schurz is spoken of for the position, being the first Senator to suggest its revival last session, when the proposition was defeated on account of the Senate resolution to transact no business but the Ku-Klux bill. Schurz has never held any chairmanship, and probably desires this or none.

Notwithstanding their diversity of views on other subjects relating to the finances of the country, there is no difference of opinion in the Senate Finance Committee as to the summary abolition of the income tax. They all agree to sweep away all internal revenue tax, except on whisky, beer, tobacco and stamps. There is said also to be a disposition to overthrow the sinecures and abolish the perquisites which have become a burden on commerce for the benefit of a few place-holders.

After the feast comes the paying of the piper. There is said to be a good deal of quaking in the Brooklyn navy yard over the report that a resolution will be introduced into Congress on the first days of the session, authorizing a committee to make inquires into these two points: First, Who paid the two or three hundred laborers who have been engaged in making preparations for the Grand Duke's ball? Second, How much of the property of the United States Government was used to give the entertainment? and how much of it will have to be condemned, now that the ball is over? The Navy Department, it is hinted, will assist in the investigation.

There is a man at Spring Grove, Houston county, Minnesota, who is gradually turning into stone. He is completely petrified in all his limbs and body—the only exception being a portion about the mouth, throat and eyes. He has a good appetite, eats, and prays day night for the Lord to deliver him from this terrible affliction. He is perfectly helpless. The process of petrification commenced some time last spring in his feet and knees, since which time it has gradually increased.

A remarkable missionary expedition sailed from New York last Thursday for Equador. The party consisted of six of the largest boys from the Catholic Protectory at Westchester—a carpenter, a blacksmith, a machinist, an engineer, and a shoemaker, and is under the direction of Brother Tellow, of the same institution, its intent being to teach the natives of that country the mechanical arts and farming. All religionists may learn from the admirable missionary plans of the church under whose auspices these apostles of civilization sail.

The fixedness of Jewish customs and characteristics is a matter of history, and any change would seem to be a breaking from old landmarks that is difficult to accomplish. Nevertheless, under the influence of American ideas, action has been taken looking to changes of great importance, and seems to place the eventual Americanization of at least a considerable number of the German Jews residing in this country beyond a doubt. The change has come from the Israelites themselves, and is marked by a peculiar softening of strong national characteristics. Some of the most intelligent Jews of New York have subscribed money for the purpose of translating the principal works of Hebrew literature into the English language. The works to be translated are not exclusively in the Hebrew language, many of them being in German. The last conference of Jewish rabbis at Cincinnati resolved that in Jewish worship the prayers and hymns should in future be in English instead of German. Although doubtless to many Jews of German origin, Germany is still revered as the Fatherland, this edition of the Bible will doubtless be acceptable.

"Resurgam." The new Chicago Chamber of Commerce will surpass its predecessor in all respects. It will have a frontage of one hundred and eighty-one feet seven inches on La Salle street, and ninety-three feet on Washington street, and will be three stories in height, eighty-seven feet, the upper floor to be used by the Board of Trade, a spacious hall forty-five feet high being designed for the use of the body. The structure will be Buena Vista freestone, and on the Italian style of architecture. The total cost is fixed at $300,000.

The following rule for estimating the colorific effects of a given sample of oil, although it makes the threoetic amount a little larger than that found in practice, is near enough to ascertain the relative values of oils as fuel. First, the amount of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen contained in the sample is found by analysis. Second, subtract from the hydrogen one-eighth of the oxygen, then multiply the difference by 344.62, and add to the product the quantity of carbon multiplied by 80.8, and this sum will be the number of heat units in one kilogram.

The policy of retrenchment and economy determined upon by the Republicans of Louisiana will, we trust, soon place the Crescent city and the Pelican State in a better condition than that described by a special correspondent of the New York Times a few days ago. He says "New Orleans is fast losing its prestige and position owing to taxation, and enormous and rapidly growing debt, a falling off of business, and an oppressive license system. I hear on all sides the cry of despondency. Real estate cannot be sold for 50 per cent. of its actual value, and prominent land and property holders say that if they could sell for one-half of the estimated value of their possessions they would sell out and leave this tax-burdened State. The debt of both State and city is increasing."

In a recent letter to his paper from the West, Mr. Samuel Bowles, editor of the Springfield Republican, exposes a number of the tricks of the Indian contractors and speculators in the Sioux country, in connection with the furnishing of supplies. He shows, for instance, that they have frequently turned in small Texas steers and cows, weighing 600 to 800 pounds each, at 1,600 pounds each to the Government for the Indians, and then stolen them back again, while the same thousand sacks of flour have been sold over and over to the same old blind gentleman whom we conveniently call "Uncle Sam." And these are but samples of the frauds which are being constantly perpetrated. Mr. Bowles thinks that the head of the Indian Bureau should be required to spend half of his time "in the field," and believes that if such a course should be pursued, order might be brought out of chaos and honesty out of corruption.

It seems to be generally understood that the President's Message will not be brought to public light this year until the two committees appointed by each house of Congress wait upon the President for the purpose of informing him that Congress has assembled and is ready to receive any communication which he may have to lay before them. Little or no pressure has therefore been brought to secure it, although the message is finished. The President, anticipating means might be taken to obtain a copy, has the copies of it locked up in a drawer in his own room, so that any effort to secure it through any of the President's household will prove futile.

A phenomenon has occurred in Indianapolis. A well, the water of which has been of a remarkable coldness, has been growing warmer, and is now almost hot. The inference is that the city is growing worse and worse, and consequently the infernal regions are approaching it underground.

It is said in the Hartford Courant that the three insurance companies in that city which have survived the Chicago fire and are still doing business, have received for premiums during the month of October almost double the amount obtained in October, 1870, by all the insurance companies, nine in number, then doing business in Hartford. There has been an increase in the rates of premiums, averaging about twenty-five per cent.

Gen. Grant and Civil Service Reform.

[From the New York Times.]

In the coming administration, if he is called upon to guide it, Gen. Grant will be immensely aided in this much-needed reform by the aroused public sentiment of the country; and we believe that the people would fully justify him in appointing his own commission for examinations to civil service, even if Congress declined to do so.

At all events, we have reason to belive that the President fully intends to do what he can to push this great reform, and where Gen. Grant has set his will, we know there is sure to be a way. The great body of his admirers and supporters through the country still expect, from their great chief, this grandest victory of peace. They will support and urge him for the Presidency in this hope and expectation. They belive that history will yet record of Gen. Grant, that he saved his country in war, and redeemed it from its worst evils in peace.

AT THE late election in Virginia, a portion of the colored people were prevailed upon to vote the Conservative ticket. A Conservative, elected to the Legislature by colored voters, has the grace to publish a card thanking them for their support, and assuring them he will never prove false to any legal or political right which they now enjoy.

That's creditable to the Conservative. But what is it to the Democratic party, his affiliations with which seemed to render such a promise necessary?

WITNESSES.

Whenever my heart is heavy,
And life seems as sad as death—
A subtle and marvellous mockery
Of all who draw their breath—
And I weary of throned injustice,
Of rumor of outrage and wrong,
And doubt if God rules in heaven,
And I cry, "O Lord, how long—
How long shall darkness and evil
Their forces around them draw?
Is there no power in Thy right hand?
Is there no life in Thy law?"

Then at last the blazing brightness
Of day forsakes its height,
Slips like a splendid curtain
From the awful and infinite night;
And out of the depths of distance—
The gulfs of purple space—
The stars steal, slow and silent,
Each in the ancient place,
Each in armor shining,
The hosts of heaven arrayed,
And wheeling through the midnight
As they did when the world was made.

And I lean out among the shadows
Cast by that far white gleam,
And I tremble at the murmur
Of one mote in the mighty beam,
As the everlasting squadrons
Their fated influence shed,
And their vast meridians sparkle
With the glory of their tread—
The constellated glory
That the primal morning saw—
And I know God moves to His purpose,
And still there is life in His law!

PERSONAL.

Ex-Controller Connolly is understood to have been an active partner with the Sheriff of New York in the line of business keeping a sponging house in Ludlow Street Jail. He is now a sleeping partner in the same concern.

Charles F. Yerkes, father of the Philadelphia broker implicated in defrauding the City Treasury has resigned the presidency of the Kensington National Bank, and George A. Landell has been elected to fill the vacancy.

Petitions for the commutation of the sentence of George Botts, the murderer of "Pet" Halstead, are being extensively circulated in New Jersey, and will shortly be presented to the Court of Pardons. The condemned man manifests much interest now in his spiritual condition, and is visited every day by one or more clergymen.

Bismarck is reported recently to have expressed more desire to meet and talk with General Sherman than with any American alive. He considers Sherman more than any of our soldiers a man of great military genius and inexhaustible resources.

The New York Standard corrects its statement that Mr. George William Curtis would assume the chief editorship of the New York Times on the first of January.

It is said that General Butler wants an opportunity to reply in the Atlantic to "Warrington's" recent castigation. It is to be hoped that he will not get it, since a reply would then be in order, and one whipping of such a sort is enough.

James A. Garfield and George W. Julian are said to have been frightened from their early advocacy of woman suffrage by the Woodhull-Claflin movement; and no wonder.

The new wife of the medium, Home, is described as "a pretty brunette, with little hands and feet, high-arched instep, and nice manners. Her family is rich, and the estates willed to her by her uncle are said to be as large as some German principalities."

It has been said that when the brains were out the man would die. Yet we learn that Captain John C. Brain, the last prisoner of the war who was released from his place of imprisonment in Brooklyn, by President Johnson in 1869, is at present lecturing in Georgia.

Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, editress of "Godey's Lady's Book" is eighty-four years old and still labors constantly at the work which has employed her for the last forty-four years. All hail to the hale old lady.

Speaker Blaine is expected to arrive in Washington to-day, but it is understood he will not be at home to any callers, except a few leading members of the House, to whom he has written to for advice in forming his Committees. It is said that he has two or three lists of Committees prepared, which he will submit to his particular friends in the House for opinions, and will trust much to their advice. Gen. Garfield and others have been invited to call on the Speaker at his house to-morrow.

Winter Wisdom.

Warm clothing alone will not protect the body against the consequences of the sudden depression of temperature which is concomitant of early winter. Flannel next the skin preserves the animal heat, but it does not impart animal vigor. That property is the special prerogative of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is therefore a specific protection against a majority of the complaints which are most common at this season. For example, a course of the great vegetable invigorant, commenced now, will be almost sure to preclude chills and fever, bilious colic, disorders of the stomach, constipation, and many other complaints which are often the direct or indirect effect of an atmosphere surcharged with cold, unwholesome vapor. Moreover, the system toned and regulated by this means is much more likely to resist pulmonary disease than it would otherwise be; for the influence of searching medicine pervades all the organs, and every fiber and tissue of the frame. Persons whose vital powers are weak, especially invalid ladies and the aged, are earnestly recommended not to face the winter's rigor without having recourse to this safe and sufficient means of re-enforcing enfeebled nature. Much suffering may be escaped, much danger averted by following this counsel. Better late than never, is a good proverb, but it is better to be early than late.

GOOD GOODS,
AT LOW PRICES.
The prevalent idea that Goods of a superior quality, or what is generally called a "good article," can only be had by paying a very high price, is not the fact, as hundreds of Ladies can testify who have purchased their Dry Goods from us.
Selling only for Cash and at One Price, our large trade enables us to offer every class of Goods in all the departments at such a small advance on the first cost that customers at first hearing the price are apt to associate it with an inferior quality, owing to their having had to pay as much for such.
We take pleasure in asking Ladies to examine our Stock, which for variety and extent is not surpassed in the city, while the price on every article, from the lowest to the best quality, is uniformly cheap.
Every Lady is assured of courtesy and attention, whether she purchases or not

FINANCE AND TRADE

FRIDAY EVENING, December 1, 1871.

The applications that will be made to the next legislature for the chartering of new banks in this city—savings banks and banks of deposit and discount—would seem to indicate a profitable out-look to such institutions. There are nine of these applications in our advertising columns, with a fixed aggregate capital of over a million, and the privilege in most instances of doubling it. The numerous new banks which have begun operations in this city and Allegheny, as well as the neighboring towns, within a year or eighteen months, are doing a good business. Those which do a regular banking business have more paper ordinarily offered at their boards than they can discount and at higher rates than charged by the national banks. When money is easy, and demand light for loans, they lower their terms to about ten per cent., and occasionally to nine. There are saving banks in this city that confine their investments exclusively to bonds and mortgages—first liens on city and country real estate, and who charge regularly ten per cent. per annum. That is they will buy on three year mortgage at twelve off and six on, which is almost equivalent to eleven per cent. And singular to state, there are plenty of applicants for money at these rates. The Dollar Savings Bank lends money at more liberal rates on real estate security than any institution of its class in the city. It charges but eight per cent. payable every six months and the borrower does not even have to pay for the examination of his title. This bank cannot discount half the good mortgages offered, and latterly it has invested a large sum in Government bonds in order to have a security easily convertible.

The names of the banks applying for charters at the next Legislature are the Shoe and Leather Savings Bank, Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of East Birmingham, United States Savings Bank, The United Savings Bank, The Enterprise Savings Bank, (Allegheny), Real Estate Deposit Bank, Odd Fellows' Savings Bank and Iron and Glass Dollar Savings Bank of Birmingham; also, The People's Insurance Company of this city is applying for banking privileges, similar to the Pittsburgh Insurance Company. Judging from the success which attends the new banks now under way, we have little doubt that when these nine more are chartered and get into business they will be successful and profitable to their projectors, as well as highly useful to this active and thriving community.

—There was a larger business generally among the discount houses to-day. The supply of loanable means is yet inadequate to the good demand upon the market. Currency and Eastern exchange are scarce. A good deal of paper was negotiated with private lenders to-day by the brokers at the usual outside rates.

There were a few light transactions in local stocks and bonds. Some few lots of Columbia oil stock were sold at 20 per share. No changes to report in the price of our National Bank shares. They are held at the well established advances.

The loan for the Allegheny Valley Railroad Extension, for which Mr. Andrew Carnegie went to London last summer, was a few days since opened to the public, in accordance with his arrangements, and proved a grand success. The loan was for $5,000,000, and was taken in a few hours—a much larger sum having been offered than was required. This, with previous loans made by Mr. Carnegie, amounts to over twelve million dollars, which he has procured from British capitalists during the present year for investment in this country in aid of public enterprises.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
SATURDAY, December 2, 1871.

REMARKS.—The market exhibited more firmness. There was, however, but little activity manifested. Buyers in this market were shy, and disposed to hold off. This has been the situation for some time.

CRUDE.

We did not learn of any sales here. The asking rates were: Spot 10⅞c; December 10⅞c; S. O. all 10⅞c; B. O. all year 11c. These figures indicate an advance.

REFINED.

The market appeared firmer, with holders asking an advance. We quote: Spot 21⅛c; December 21⅛c; January 21⅞c; February 22c. The market at the close was strong. These figures include eastern delivery.

IRON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, November 29.—The market for Scotch pig remains inactive, but the stock is light, and prices are supported—200 tons Glengarnock sold at $35 50, time; and 150 do Summerlee, on private terms. American meets with very little inquiry, but prices are without change—we quote No. 2 at $34a35. New rails have been rather quiet, but are steady at the quotations noted in our last. Old continue in moderate request, and we notice further sales of 1,200 tons double-headed and T, part at $42 50 currency, cash. Refined bar continues very strong at the advance noticed in our list, the tendency being to still higher prices—it costs now to lay down from Liverpool, $82 50a83 00 currency, from dock. The second advance in Burden's mentioned in our last, which we did not give, was only on their "H. B. & S." viz, $2 50 per ton on ordinary sizes, round and square, extra sizes, flats, ovals, half ovals, and half rounds, an advance of $12 50 in all the two announcements. "Burden's Best" was not further changed. Swedes bar, squares, is nearly out of market. Common sheets continue very scarce and bring full prices—No. 24 sells at 5¼c, and No. 27 at 5¾a6 cents—a further lot of 1,000 bdls American R. G. and 1,000 do, galvanized, sold on private terms. Sound Russia sheet is held at 18 cents gold. —Price Current.

CLEVELAND.

November 29.—Pig Iron.—The demand continues steady and fairly active at former quotations. Some few consumers have stocked up for the winter and others up to the close of the year; but the majority are still in the market. They are, however, taking only immediate necessities. Soft domestic irons have the call over Scotch iron at present quotations, and Massillon and Tuscarawas irons are sold ahead of the production. Stocks of charcoal are very meagre and steadily reducing with very little prospect of any material accessions during the winter. The prospect for a heavy winter consumption is very good. Almost every foundry and mill in this vicinity is behind orders and there is nothing to indicate any decline this side of February. We quote the market firm at the following figures:

Lake Superior Charcoal No. 1, $44; No. 2, $43; Nos. 3, 4 and 5, $45a46; Lake Superior Bituminous, No. 1, $40a42; No. 2, $37a39; Tuscarawas $40; Massillon, $40; Anthracite, $39a40; Forge, $36 50a38 50; Hanging Rock, $40a42; Missouri Charcoal, $42a45; Scotch, $42a43.

Bar—The demand is very active and the market strong though unchanged. An order for 500 tons of future delivery at current figures, was refused by one of the largest houses in the city. Stocks are improving but are by no means as complete as is desirable. The trade this fall is by far the heaviest ever experienced. Current rates 3¾c.

Nails—Trade is active and prices unchanged. Rates $4 15.—Commercial Review.

Lard—No 1 steam 9a9⅝c; prime kettle rendered 9⅝c; December 8⅝c. Butter dull; Western 12a25c; State 21a35c.

New York Cattle Market.

NEW YORK, December 1.—Live stock—Beeves count 700 fresh and 600 stale from Monday. This makes the receipts for the week 6,550, and the market improved ⅛a¼c, everything selling. The weather is clear and cold, favoring trade, while poultry is rather short. There is a fair prospect for Monday, though butchers have many unkilled cattle; 11 cars Kentucky of 7½ cwt sold at 9¾a12c; a lot of poor stale 5 cwt Texans 7c; 6 cars Virginia steers of 6 cwt 10c; some poor 5½ cwt stale cattle 8⅛c.

Sheep—Receipts 4,900 for two days, making 13,500 for this week. They have advanced ¼ to ½ cent, or 5a6¼c for sheep, and 6½a7¼c for lambs; sales of sheep—1 car 83 ℔ Michigan 5¼c; a car 106 ℔ Canadas 6⅜c; a car 112 ℔ 6⅞c; a car 73 ℔ Canada lambs 7¼c.

Hogs—Receipts yesterday and to-day 10,900, making 37,600 for the week. Live are worth 4⅜a4⅝c; 4 cars selling at these prices; dressed advanced to 5⅛a6⅛c; one car western dressed Ohio 5⅛c.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, December 1.—Dry goods—There is no important change in staple cottons. The demand is immediate and prices uniform. The cold weather has caused an improved inquiry for woolens, which are held with a firmness unusual for the season, owing to the scarcity of the raw material. There is a large movement in Cape Mestiza and Austrian wools, and the market has an active and advanced, while medium grades of domestic fleeces are extremely scarce and decidedly firmer. In the dry goods trade little movement is expected until after the holidays, beyond absolute necessities, nor is there any probabilities of a decline while raw materials command the present high prices. Printing cloths are relatively high at 7⅛c; prints are steady at 11⅛c, and standard brown sheetings 12⅛a13c.

Louisville Market.

LOUISVILLE, December 1.—Tobacco—sales of 75 hhds; market strong; lugs $6 75a7 75; low to medium leaf $8a13. Bagging dull at 15a16c. Cotton quiet and steady; middling 18c. Flour quiet and steady; extra family $6 50. Grain—Demand light, chiefly local; prices as previously quoted. Provisions—Demand light and prices steady; new and old mess pork $13 00a13 50. Bulk shoulders active; sides, clear rib, 6⅛c; do clear 7c, packed. Bacon scarce and firm; shoulders 7¼c; sides, clear rib and clear, 7a7⅛c, with small sales. Hams, sugar cured, fancy, 14⅛c; do plain 14c in round lots. Hogs—Demand light; market easy at $4 40a4 50. Whisky quiet at 90c.

Cleveland Market.

CLEVELAND, December 1.—Wheat dull and nominal; No 1 red winter held at $1 42, and $1 41 bid; No 2 $1 33. Corn active; new shelled 56c; old 51a53c. Oats dull and nominal; held at 40c, with 39c bid.

Boats Departing This Day.

Brownsville and Geneva—Morning boat 8 A. M., evening 5 P. M.

Geneva—West Virginia, Donaldson, 3 P. M.

Cincinnati—Juniata, Brennan, 12 M.

Zanesville—Carrie Brooks, Darlington, 4 P. M.

THE marks last evening indicated five feet three inches and falling. The weather was cold and ice freezing in the Allegheny. Trade on the landing was not very active.

THE arrival of towboats since our last would make a good sized fleet. There are more on the way.

THE Wild Duck and barges, Capt. J. W. Anawalt, will leave for St. Louis.

THE packet St. Charles, Captain C. A. Dravo, will leave for Cincinnati on Monday afternoon.

THE steamer St. Charles, Captain C. A. Dravo, was announced to leave Cincinnati for this port on Thursday.

CAPT. S. SHUMAN takes charge of the steamer Kate Putnam at Cincinnati, and will load for New Orleans.

"HOW IS THIS FOR HIGH."—The week's receipts of pig iron by the river amounted to 4,212 tons; iron ore 3,550 tons—total 7,762 tons.

THE departures yesterday included the Granite State for Portsmouth, and Argosy for Wheeling with fair trips.

THE side-wheeler Juniata, Capt. C. S. Brennan, takes her departure for Cincinnati this day, 12 M. sharp. Be on hand.

A LETTER from General Israel Garrard, of Frontenac, Minnesota, states that Lake Pepin froze over on the night of the 23d, with a perfectly smooth surface.

THE powerful towboat Comet, Capt. John M. Hare, is receiving for Cairo and St. Louis. She will have dispatch.

THE widow of the late Captain Asa D. Johnston, formerly of Wheeling, recently became insane, in Washington, Pennsylvania. She has been removed to Dixmont, and her two children taken to Judge Johnston's (in Wheeling.)

THE United States mail packets on the slackwater leave daily at 8 A. M. and 5 P. M. These boats are all side-wheelers, and are in charge of careful and attentive officers. For further information inquire of Captain A. S. Carlile, on the wharfboat.

THE light-draught steamer West Virginia, Capt. Donaldson, takes her departure this day at 3 P. M., for Brownsville and Geneva. For further information call on Capt. S. R. Patterson, who will give you all that is necessary.

THE Cincinnati Commercial says: "Captain James Madison and James Montague, who piloted the Crescent City to Cairo, have returned, and say she excels any boat of her class on our waters." It did not cost their pilots much to make the statement, but if they undertook to prove it, that would be altogether another affair.

THE splendid side wheel packet Juniata, Captain C. L. Brennan, takes her departure on this day at 12 M. for Wheeling, Marietta, Parkersburg and Cincinnati. For speed, accommodations and attentive officers this boat stands A No. 1. Those who have traveled on the Juniata speak in flattering terms of her appointments.

MR. MOORE, clerk of the Andy Ackley, reports at Sioux City, frozen in, no doubt, by this time, Andy Ackley, Peninah, Nellie Peck, Far West, Miner and Hiram Wood. The Silver Lake and Ida Stockdale were frozen in above. The Nellie Peck was considerably damaged, chains broken, &c., by lying on a log above Sioux City.

THE punctual packet, Carrie Brooks, Captain H. Darlington, takes her departure this day at 4 P. M. for Wheeling, Marietta and Zanesville. This boat has superior accommodations, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Our attentive friend Henry C. Caldwell has charge of the office.

E. P. SPRAGUE, having been dismissed from the position of Inspector of Boilers of the Mobile District, in consequence of the Ocean Wave explosion, the vacancy has been filled by the appointment of I. D. Spear. The appointment was made by the Collector of the port of Mobile and Major Rogers, Supervising Inspector.

CINCINNATI—The Enquirer says: Steamers are now compelled to run the 220 feet span of the Newport bridge, the channel span being blocked up with a cranebout at work on the remains of the cofferdam, which the falling of the water has rendered dangerous. The trestlework in the channel span has nearly all been taken down, and the work of removing the cofferdam will be commenced in a day or two. In a week's time the channel span will be entirely free from obstructions, and open again to the passage of boats.

UNITED STATES MARINE HOSPITAL, port of Louisville, Ky. Dr. Thomas J. Griffiths, surgeon in charge of the United States Marine Hospital, at this port, reports the following, as the condition of the hospital under his charge, during the month of November, 1871: No. of patients remaining the last day of October, 75: No. of patients admitted during the month of November, 60; No. of patients treated during the month of November, 135; No. of patients discharged during the month of November, 73; No. of patients died during the month of November, none; No. of patients remaining on the last day of November, 62; No. of private patients treated during the month of November, 10.

THE Cincinnati Commercial says: Captain John Haggerty, an old citizen and merchant of Cincinnati, and a pioneer steamboatman, died in his room at the St. James Hotel, yesterday morning at six o'clock. He had been in feeble health for several years. The deceased was born in Washington county, Pennsylvania, and was seventy-one years old. He was engaged in business in Pittsburgh a short time, and commenced his career as a clerk and steamboat commander in 1832, on the steamer Erie, which capsized in the Muskingum river. He built the steamers Cinderella at Corvette at Cincinnati in 1836 or 1839, the veteran builder, Mr. John Johnston, constructing the cabins. He was also commander of the Scioto, burned at the Cincinnati wharf in the spring of 1843. He boated principally in the Arkansas and lower Mississippi rivers.

E. BOURNE'S

LOW PRESSURE

Steam Heating Apparatus,

45 MARKET STREET.

We, the undersigned, Board of School Directors for the Fifth ward School, Allegheny City, having had E. BOURNE'S LOW PRESSURE SELF-REGULATING STEAM HEATING APPARATUS in our School House for the past three winters, and after being thoroughly tested, we are glad to say that it has given entire satisfaction to all concerned in every particular. The heat produced is extremely pleasant, and renders the rooms throughout the building of one even temperature. The consumption of fuel economical, requiring but a small amount of attention, and during the coldest weather we have no trouble in warming the house to a desirable temperature. It is perfectly safe from explosion, and we unhesitatingly recommend it to those having charge of Schools, Academies, Public Buildings or Dwellings of any size or dimensions.

We cordially invite all parties that are interested in public buildings to visit our School and see for themselves.

NEWS SUMMARY.

BY TELEGRAPH

Shanghae advices of October 24 state that the floods at Tientsin were unabated. The foreign community fear trouble from the starving population, and ask for a vessel of war. The excitement at Foo Chow has subsided. The ship Taeping, loaded for New York, has been lost. The weather on the southern coast has been very severe. The Chinese Government acknowledge the right of Chinese subjects to take out transit passes. The Shanghae bar will be dredged. The Japanese have made a treaty with China, extending the territorial privileges granted at ports, and the treaty transferred to those of other Powers.

The city of Mazatlan, Mexico, has pronounced in favor of Diaz, and expelled the federal officers.

Governor Campbell, of Wyoming Territory, has signed the bill repealing female suffrage.

A personal encounter between Colonel O'Neal and General Burbridge, in Covington, Kentucky, yesterday, in which the latter struck the former, will probably lead to a duel.

William Sedgewick, for fifty years a Baptist minister, died on Thursday at Chillicothe, O. He preached in the morning, and at two o'clock in the afternoon was dead.

Yesterday F. W. Lendrum, a night clerk in the Louisville Postoffice, was arrested for robbing the mails in the office. Eleven letters were found on his person. The robbery has been going on some time, and Lendrum leading a fast life, keeping a woman, etc., and sporting valuable diamonds on a thousand a year, led to his being suspected, and a watch was set for him, and yesterday morning he was seen taking letters from the distributing department. The policeman on watch immediately arrested him and recovered the letters. Lendrum was lodged in jail, and will be examined before the United States Commissioners to-day.

The Criminal Court of Clark county, Ind., convened at Charleston yesterday. Judge Dunham delivered a long charge to the grand jury on the Park tragedy and the subsequent lynching. He charged them to investigate the murder of the Park family, and also to investigate thoroughly the circumstances of the lynching. He styled the latter murder and ridiculed the idea of the negroes' confession under terror of death being of any value. He referred to sixteen similar murders in that circuit in the last four years, and ordered the jury to inquire whether the sheriff, jailer or any officers or constable neglected his duty in the last case by failing to use all possible means to prevent the mob executing their purpose; also to inquire whether any Grand Juror was concerned with the mob.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

MISSOURI PACIFIC AND ATLANTIC PACIFIC SOON TO BE CONSOLIDATED.

ST. LOUIS, December 1.—It is reported in railroad circles here that the consolidation of the Missouri Pacific and Atlantic and Pacific Railroads are soon to be made, and that the General Superintendent and several others, officers of the former road, will retire immediately on the consummation of this arrangement. A double track from Franklin to St. Louis will be laid, and a branch road from Laclede, on the Atlantic and Pacific Road, to South St. Louis, be built.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, December 1, 1871.

A FULL CONFESSION AS TO THE TRANSACTIONS OF THE RING.

The Tribune states that Connolly yesterday prepared a full confession of all the transactions of the ring, and that three of Tweed's bondsmen, including Hugh Hastings, of the Commercial Advertiser, have signified their intention to withdraw.

ADDITIONAL RIVER DISPATCHES.

Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, December 1.—River nine feet eight inches; rose six inches. Clear and cold. Arrived—Major Anderson, Wheeling; Arlington, Pittsburgh. Departed—Major Anderson, Wheeling.

Cutting Affray.

An information was made yesterday before Mayor Brush by Herman Clare, who charged Dennis Duffy with felonious assault and battery. The parties had a fight on the hill on Thursday, during which Clare alleges the accused drew a razor and cut his brother, Israel Clare, on the side, inflicting a dangerous wound. The accused was arrested and held for future disposition.

Railroad Accident.

The 3:10 accommodation train, east, on the Connellsville Railroad, almost met with a serious accident yesterday. By an error of a switch tender, a "Y" was left open when it should have been closed, and the train running upon it was carried from the track, and would have been precipitated over an embankment had it not been for a young man, who, with great presence of mind, shut down the brakes on the passenger cars. As it was, the engine and baggage car were all that left the track.

Fires Last Night.

About half past eight o'clock last night, an alarm was sounded from box No. 73, corner Penn avenue and Forty-first street, occasioned by the discovery of fire in the cellar of an unfinished dwelling, in course of erection near by. The flames were extinguished before any damage was done.

Another alarm was sounded from the same box at half-past ten o'clock, caused by the explosion of a tank in Kirkpatrick & Co's oil works, at the foot of Forty-fourth street. The firemen succeeded in confining the flames to the tank. The loss will reach about eight hundred dollars.

Nominations and Suggestions.

Several of the wards suggested and nominated on Thanksgiving day. We give the results as far as heard from:

FIFTEENTH WARD.

Select Council—Gen. A. L. Pearson.
Common Council—Dr. L. F. Arensberg, Stephen Dietrich, Wm. McKim, Wm. Ramsey.
School Directors—Thomas D. Keller, M. Neckermann.
Judge of Election—Wm. Ramsey.
Inspector—Wm. Flaccus.
Return Inspector—John A. Kurtz.
Assessor—G. H. Ronshausen.
Constable—John A Kurtz.

TWENTY-THIRD WARD.

A meeting of the citizens of the Twenty-third ward, irrespective of party, was held at the public school house on Thursday night, and the following ticket placed in nomination in opposition to the regular Republican ticket: Select Council—John D. Scully. Common Council—Wm. Barker, Samuel Brown. School Directors—Wm. Alexander, Samuel Thompson. Judge of Election—Wm. Alexander, Jr.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Charles Matthews had his benefit last evening, appearing in two of his very best characters—Alfred Mopus, in "Married for Money," and Plumper, in "Cool as a Cucumber." It is hardly necessary to say that his acting was inimitable. He appears this afternoon in "Married for Money" and in his own comedietta of "Mr. Gatherwool." To-night, when he makes his last appearance, "The Critic" and "Little Toddlekins" will form the very attractive bill.

Fifth Avenue Opera House.

The highly popular and really excellent Irish drama, entitled "Shin Fane," is proving an immense success at Manager Beamer's establishment. It has been produced in most excellent style, and the stellar attraction, Mr. T. G. Riggs has proved himself a really true artist and most excellent delineator of the true Irish character. "Shin Fane" will be repeated at the matinee to-day, and in the evening, when the Fifth Avenue Opera House will doubtless be crowded, as it should be.

Varieties Theater.

Notwithstanding the strong opposition, the Varieties turns up with all the seats occupied each evening; and it is little wonder, considering the immense attractions offered. There will be a matinee at half past two this afternoon, and in the evening a grand bill.

Georgia Minstrel Slave Troupe.

We received a call from Mr. George Hicks, advance agent of the Georgia Minstrels, last evening, who informed us that the troupe would appear at Masonic Hall on Tuesday evening next. They appeared here a few weeks ago to very large audiences, and left behind them an impression which will secure full houses at their every appearance.

Wagner's Minstrels.

This troupe, under the managment of Mr. J. H. Haverly, has been performing at the Academy since Wednesday evening to large and dignified audiences. The company undoubtedly numbers among its members some of the most talented vocalists and comedians of the day, and the several acts, songs and dances are deservedly encored nightly. The matinee this afternoon, and the night performance at the Academy will conclude the stay of the company in this city, and on both occasions the house will be crowded.

THE COLONIZATION SCHEME.

Meeting in the Eighteenth Ward—Letter from Col. Phillips—Resolutions Adopted.

A largely attended and spirited meeting of the citizens of the Eighteenth ward, irrespective of party, was held at the Public School House, Thursday evening, for the purpose of giving an expression of the sentiments of the bona fide voters of the ward in relation to the colonization of voters.

The following letter was presented and read:

CAPT. H. BLACKSTONE, Chief Engineer A. V. R. R. Co.—Dear Sir: Having been absent in the East for some time past on the company's business, as you are aware of, on my return home I find, or hear it rumored, that the roadmaster or employees in your department have been moving or colonizing men in a certain district for the purpose of accomplishing certain results at the ensuing election. I hope such is not the case, but should you on inquiry find it is so, please take measures to have it stopped immediately. If the work on the road in that locality is not absolutely necessary at this time, send back any force that may have been recently brought in until the election is over. Yours truly, &c

W. PHILLIPS, President A. V. R. R. Co.
PITTSBURGH, November 27, 1871.

A committee was appointed by the Chair, consisting of the following gentlemen: S. C. McCandless, C. W. Lewis, Wm. Francis, Samuel Carothers, Michael Costello, Geo. Bendell and Andrew Lyons, who, after retiring and examining the Assessor and his books, reported the following resolutions. (Mr. McCandless alone dissenting), which, on motion, were adopted as read:

WHEREAS, Sixty persons have applied for registration within the last two weeks, a number equal to almost one-half the citizens of the ward, and,

Whereas, One-half the citizens of this number are strangers stopping at the hotels and boarding houses of the ward, and applied for registration as they came, and it is evident that such an extraordinary transaction could only be caused by a preconcerted plan, and,

Whereas, All of those persons are in the employ of the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company, and it is unusual for their men to stay here, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we resent this outrage upon our rights, as an insult to every citizen of the ward, and if permitted to go unrebuked would endanger the dearest rights and privileges of American freemen and we therefore call upon all our citizens to forget party and local divisions and administer such a rebuke at the polls as shall never be forgotten.

Resolved, That we call upon those persons who may have been brought here ignorant of the object, and therefore innocent, to abstain from voting, and let the citizens of the ward decide their own affairs without outside interference.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by the chair, to collect information and prosecute, to the full extent of the law, every person who shall attempt to vote illegally, or who are or may be engaged in sending persons into the ward for the purpose of voting, or violating the election laws in any particular.

On motion, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That we are pleased to hear, from the order of Colonel Phillips to Captain Blackstone, that he is not responsible for the large number of persons who have come into the ward, and we request him to extend the same order to all departments of the road.

On motion, adjourned.

VICTORIA WOODHULL.

Something About the Lecture, and More About the Lecturer.

From a thousand to twelve hundred people assembled in Library Hall last night to listen to the lecture of Mrs. Woodhull on the constitutional right of women to the exercise of the electoral franchise. The audience, which was marked by a conspicuous absence of ladies, not more than a hundred of whom were present, was attracted more by curiosity to look upon the famous, or rather notorious advocate of whatever is startling in the sphere of social ideas, rather than by any special interest in the subject which formed the theme of her discourse; while it is probable that not a few were drawn thither in the expectation that a greater or less quantity of doubtful intellectual food would be dealt out to them. There was nothing in the lecture, however, at all calculated to inflame the senses or to minister to a prurient imagination. The lecture was merely a repetition of the arguments advanced by the speaker last winter before the Judiciary Committee of Congress, and, while couched in excellent language, contained nothing either very new or very striking; being, perhaps, more remarkable for its complete absence of any reference, however slight, to the duties which devolve on woman in common with man, than for any broad and comprehensive view of the vital and intrinsic merits of the question. In this respect the lecture fell infinitely short of even the poorest of the addresses delivered before the Woman's Suffrage Convention held in this city last week. The appearance and manner of the speaker are somwhat unique. She has an eager—what, indeed, may be called an intense—face, the preternatural haggardness of which not even the arts of the toilet could wholly disguise. The impression derived from the study of her features is that there are unhealthy forces at work within her which render her an entire stranger to the serenities and tranquilities which make woman the help-meet of man, and hold within them the prophecies of the better days to come. The upper portion of her face might belong to Cassandra; but the lower portion, especially the lips, which it is said are an unfailing index of character, much more fitly associate with the idea of Cressida. There is, too, an elfish luminosity in her eyes, which if bold are yet furtive, and wander in all directions at once. Her voice is not without a certain charm, being clear and to some extent musical, and has evidently received the advantage of an excellent training, which renders her elocution quite agreeable. Her manner last night was quite composed, although it is not at all difficult to believe that she can, on provocation, flame out into the fury of a tigress. Upon the whole, we should say that she is a woman possessed of considerable intelligence, which is diseased at its root, and whose qualities of inherent delicacy and sensitiveness are too weak to withhold her from the pursuit and prosecution of her "mission." "Quiet," says Lord Byron, "to quick bosoms is a hell." And this, we take it, sums up the case of Victoria Woodhull.

Another Warning.

About seven o'clock yesterday morning, Mrs. Clark, who is employed as a cook in the house of Dr. Rosseau, corner Penn street and Garrison alley, in kindling the fire poured some oil on the wood. The oil made such a blaze that it soon reached the can when an explosion followed, enveloping the woman in a sheet of flame. A man who was passing the rear of the house, noticed the blaze and rushed to the rescue, but the fire was not extinguished until Mrs. Clark was so severely injured that it is feared the injuries will result fatally.

CITY MATTERS IN BRIEF.

LOCAL politics are at fever heat.

THE Board of Guardians of the Poor meet at three o'clock this afternoon.

THE newspaper reporter who fell asleep last night during Vic. Woodhull's lecture alleges that he was very busy on Thanksgiving Day, and could not well help it.

THE Miller's Run Presbyterian Congregation yesterday, through their pastor, the Rev. Wm. Smith, deposited $45 at the Mayor's office to the credit of the Northwestern Relief Fund.

BEFORE Alderman Butler, yesterday, appeared Annie Henry, who made an information against her husband, Thomas Henry, charging him with assault and battery. A warrant was issued.

ON Thanksgiving day John Buckley and Jonas Schmitdell engaged in the manufacture of horse shoes for a wager of $500. Mr. Buckley won the stakes, making seventy-two perfect horse-shoes in two hours, twelve minutes and thirty seconds. The Judges were M. Crowley and John Cain.

REV. JOSEPH D. WILSON, of Calvary Episcopal Church, East Liberty, intends making a trip to Chicago next week, to look after the distribution of certain goods and money contributed by his parishioners. The matter of distribution is very important, and has not been looked after as carefully as it should have been in many instances.

THE Rev. S. F. Scovel will preach (D. V.) to-morrow (Sabbath) evening, under the auspices of the Eleventh Ward Mission, in the hall of the Moorhead public school house, Granville street, near Wylie avenue, at 7½ o'clock. Sabbath school at 2 o'clock. A cordial welcome to all.

THE Fourth ward has been rapidly increasing in population. The investigating committee appointed at the citizens meeting spent the better part of Thanksgiving Day in overhauling the Assessor's books, and, as a consequence, find that one hundred and ninety new voters have been registered in the ward since the October election. They will be carefully watched on next Tuesday.

A LARGE crowd assembled at the Rush House on Wednesday night to witness the pool selling of the Mayoralty contest. There were many present who offered to stake considerable money for Blackmore, but as no Morgan men were present who offered to take up the bets, the sale of pools was postponed until this evening, when it is expected Morgan men will put in an appearance, and stake something in favor of their candidate.

A CHILD of August Runsheimer, aged four months, was found dead in its bed beside its mother on Thursday morning. The mother has been boarding for some time at Casper Rutger's on Smithfield street. The coroner held an inquest over the remains, when a verdict of death from natural causes was returned.

MR. JOSEPH SINGERLY, JR., nephew of Benjamin Singerly, Esq., of this city, died at Philadelphia on Wednesday afternoon about half-past five o'clock after lingering illness, of typhus fever. The deceased was a promising young man, universally beloved and respected, and at the time of his death was connected with the banking house of G. De Invilliers & Co.

AS THE rear of the Fourteenth infantry were passing down Fifth avenue on Thanksgiving day, some trouble occurred between a few of them and the spectators who were lining the street, which trouble finally resulted in a general free fight. Some of the military threw down their arms and pitched into the crowd indiscriminately causing for a time quite a commotion. One of the Zouaves was arrested, but he plead so earnestly to be released, promising to conduct himself better in the future, that the officer released him. The affair was eventually quelled before any serious results followed.

MESSRS. JOHN MURDOCH, JR., and Josiah King, visited Braddock's grave on Wednesday last and planted around it two English elms, two Scotch larches, two Norway spruces and one weeping willow. The parent of this willow was brought from St. Helena, from near the grave of Napoleon, by a well known resident of this city. The grave of Braddock is nine miles from Uniontown, near the National road, and until recently was marked by an original forest tree, which has fallen from decay. The object of these gentlemen, in thus marking the grave, is to perpetuate the tradition concerning the death of the unfortunate General, and the peculiar manner of his burial.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

District Court—Judges Hampton and Kirkpatrick.

The case of D. W. Smith vs. Wm. Boyd et al., which was taken up on Wednesday, was concluded yesterday, and went to the jury at half-past one o'clock, when the Court adjourned.

There were no jury trials in Judge Kirkpatrick's branch of the Court.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

Fox's executors vs. the Hempfield Railroad Company. This case, which was called up on Wednesday, is still on trial.

Yesterday morning a petition was filed in the bankruptcy branch of the United States District Court, by Manson W. Dallas, asking that Duncan Keith be adjudged a bankrupt. The petitioner alleges that his claim against Keith consists of a judgment for $8,000, obtained against him for damages in the Court of Common Pleas of Armstrong county, in 1868. The usual orders were made.

Letter Carriers' Reports.

The following is the letter carriers report for the month of November:

Mail letters delivered, 139,652; drop letters delivered, 13,656; papers, etc., 45,692.

The collection from the lamp post boxes were: Mail letters, 102,667; drop letters, 14.611; papers, 3,627. Last collections are made at 7 P. M.

ALLEGHENY.

ITEMS IN BRIEF.

THE new Grant Engine House has been completed, and was inspected yesterday afternoon by the Committee on Fire Engines and Hose, who expressed themselves well pleased with the building.

THE dinner given yesterday by the Evangelical Lutheran Church in the rooms of Wm. Semple's old building was a grand success. The receipts will aid materially toward defraying the expenses incurred by the erection of the new and handsome church, corner of Stockton avenue and Arch street.

A TEAM attached to a wagon took fright last evening about half-past five o'clock, on Ohio street, at the corner of East Diamond. The horses had not proceeded far before the wagon ran against a horse on which a boy was riding, and broke one of his legs. He was shot soon afterwards.

THE first annual session of the Grand Temple of the order of True Templars closed on Thursday last. In the evening the delegates were served an excellent supper at Wm. Semple's old building by Iron City True Temple of Honor. After full justice had been done the meal, an organization was effected, when a number of addresses were made. The affair was a very enjoyable one, and will long be remembered by the delegates present.

THE South Common Methodist Episcopal Church, which has been closed for some weeks past for repairs, will be re-opened to-morrow. The pastor will be assisted by three of the former pastors, the Revs. A. J. Endsley, J. S. Bracken and W. Lynch. Three public services will be held—at half past ten A. M. and three and seven o'clock P. M. The church has been thoroughly renovated throughout, re-painted and re-carpeted, and presents a very handsome appearance. The exercises promise to be quite interesting, and doubtless there will be a large attendance.

MR. THOMAS HARE, a hardware merchant of Pittsburgh, met with a painful accident on Thursday. While driving up Federal street, his horse became unmanageable and ran up the street at a terrible gait. The buggy soon collided with another buggy and overturned it throwing out the occupant, but he escaped with only slight bruises. Mr. Hare, however, was thrown violently to the ground, and received severe injuries. He was carried into a barber shop near by, where his injuries were dressed, after which he was removed to his home. His escape from death was almost miraculous.

ON Thursday afternoon, as the military were passing along Ohio street, between Federal and Sandusky, Xavier Hollinger, who was under the influence of liquor, made an assault upon two colored women. He then followed two white women, and, overtaking them struck one of the ladies, and attempted to trip the other. A gentleman then stepped up and struck him a severe blow in the face. Officer Miller now arrived, and when he requested Hollinger to desist, as a reward received a severe blow in the face, which was vigorously returned by the officer. Officers Wier, Scott and Wilson now secured the obstreperous individual and brought him before Mayor Callow, who fined him fifty dollars and costs.

Thanksgiving in the Western Penitentiary.

Thanksgiving services were held in the chapel of the Western Penitentiary, which were of quite an interesting character. The convicts were out in full force, numbering some four hundred, who appeared to pay great attention to the exercises. A number of visitors were also present, including two of the inspectors, Messrs. Nevin and Phillips.

The services commenced at nine o'clock, and continued one hour. Rev. Mr. Milligan, the chaplain, first read the Governor's Thanksgiving proclamation, which had been sent to the institution in a handsomely printed form. The usual introductory exercises were then had, after which the chaplain delivered an address suitable to the occasion. He was followed by Mr. Nevin, who made a few remarks of a personal character to the convicts. The exercises were interspersed with music conducted by Prof. Slack, Miss Fannie Wright presiding at the organ. At the conclusion of the services the prisoners returned to their cells, where they were served with a Thanksgiving dinner. The day passed off very pleasantly, and was a great relief to the monotony of prison life.

A COLLISION.

A Market Wagon Struck by a Train on the West Penn Railroad—Serious Injury of Two Persons.

A collision occurred yesterday morning about seven o'clock in the Eighth ward, which, it is feared, will result in the death of two persons. The wife of Mr. Conrad Koenig, and his son, aged about eighteen years, started from their home at Girty's Run, in a spring wagon, with some produce for the Allegheny market. When crossing the track of the West Penn Railroad at Penn street, a freight train, which was being backed, struck the vehicle, the horse having just cleared the track. Mrs. Koenig was thrown violently some distance from the track, receiving very serious injuries. Blood issued from her mouth and nose, and it is feared she has sustained severe internal injuries. The lad was carried along with the wreck some distance before the train could be checked. His body was severely lacerated, and one of his legs was so badly fractured that it was afterward amputated below the knee. The horse attached to the wagon was knocked down by the collision and injured in the leg. The wagon was a total wreck.

The parties were removed to a house near by, and Drs. Hamilton and Alcorn summoned. Every attention is now being paid the unfortunate woman and her son, but it is feared that their injuries will result fatally. The crossing where the accident occurred is said to be a very dangerous one, owing to the frequent passing and shifting of trains, and the company should have a flagman stationed there.

CITY ELECTION.

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF THE CITY OF PITTSBURGH.

On Tuesday, DECEMBER FIFTH, you will elect for the term of three years a Mayor, Treasurer and City Controller. In view of the well-known ascendancy of the Republican party in this community it would seem unnecessary to remind you of your duty as citizens and the obligations which devolve upon you to support by votes and influence the candidates which have been placed in nomination as the exponents of your principles. The base attempt now being made to defeat our candidate for Mayor, and to elevate to the Chief Magistracy of this city a man always identified with our political opponents seems to demand notice. Under the flimsy guise of an "ANTI-RING," "Independent" or "Citizens" candidate, a life-long Democrat who clung to the desperate fortunes of his party during the entire rebellion and who to this hour has never faltered in its support, save when he has furled the banner of the party that he might more readily win a partisan victory, again seeks the highest municipal office in your gift. Your votes are to be purloined, if possible, by the paltry devices of political strategy and the executive control of this great Republican city, with its varied manufacturing and commercial interests is to pass for three years into the hands of the Democrats. With an audacity that cannot but provoke a smile of derision these followers of a so-called Democracy, whose Chiefs and Sachems have just been thrust from power in the first city of the Union by an indignant people for their unblushing rascality and peculation, here, in Pittsburgh, don the robes of civic virtue and strut upon our streets as examplars of political honesty and the opponents of "Rings!" While we, as Republicans, may be amused by the antics of these impostors, let us rebuke at the polls the insult they would thus put upon our intelligence and descernment.

In support of the fact that Mr. Blackmore is recognized by the faithful as the candidate of the Democratic party, it need only be stated that the Democratic City Executive Committee met on Wednesday, 15th inst., at the St. Charles Hotel, and unanimously resolved to make no nomination, but to support Mr. Blackmore as the man of their choice for the Mayoralty. The Pittsburgh Post has also been filled with sensational falsehoods and atrocious calumnies on Mr. Morgan, alleging that he intended having the election held at the City Hall, instead of at the usual polling places in the different wards; and that he also was using his influence as your candidate to open the doors of the Western Penitentiary to enlist recruits to his standard, by procuring the pardon of convicted felons incarcerated there. It would be astounding, indeed, if the Republican party at this day, and in the light of recent events, should conclude to resort to the desperate tactics of Tammany Hall to carry a municipal election! These weak and preposterous inventions of the enemy serve only to disclose their deadly malice and the importance they attach to the present contest. We are on the eve of a Presidential campaign the results of which will affect the destinies of our country for all coming time, and if the Republican Party is successful, as we all believe and hope, the sad experiences of the past will not have been in vain. At such a moment it behooves us to avoid even the appearance of wavering and to rally in unbroken phalanx in defense of our principles and in support of our candidates.

Aside from weighty political considerations, candor compels your committee to state that the time during which Mr. Blackmore acted as Mayor failed to develop his fitness for that important trust. During his official term thousands of dollars of fines and penalties publicly imposed were privately "remitted," and the offenders thus escaped the punishment due their crimes. An examination of his official record shows that thousands of dollars were thus lost to the city treasury, and that offenders were daily turned loose and "discharged," unwhipped of justice! The scenes of disorder and turbulence which marked his reign cannot but be well remembered by the public, and we need only recall them to your notice. It is, perhaps, a curious illustration of the better instincts of our common nature that these recipients of Mr. Blackmore's mistaken leniency appear, even yet, to strongly cherish a sentiment of gratitude in his behalf.

The Republican candidate for Mayor, B. W. Morgan, deserves and should receive your cordial and earnest support at the polls. A native of Pittsburgh, without the advantage of inherited wealth, he has filled with credit to himself various positions of honor and trust with admitted fidelity and ability. Having an honorable record as a citizen and one also to which he may point with pride as a soldier in the late war, as born out by the testimonials of Union officers of high rank, his comrades in arms, he is entitled not only to your suffrages, but to a generous and enthusiastic support. Nominated for the office of Chief Executive of the city by the Republican party, after a struggle for that high honor of unusual warmth, your Committee cannot for a moment believe that you will permit his defeat to be accomplished by the arts of a selfish demagoguism. If elected, he will bring to the discharge of his duties, administrative ability, a due sense of the responsibilities of the station and a resolve to honestly and inflexibly abide by his oath of office.

Mr. C. L. Magee, the candidate for City Treasurer, is eminently fitted for that position. For a long time chief clerk in the office of the City Treasurer, already familiar with its financial affairs, and an ardent Republican, we bespeak for him your most active exertions in his behalf.

The supporters of Mr. Blackmore for Mayor have recently put forward for this office a Mr. Stark in opposition to the regular Republican nominee. This attempt to sugar-coat the Democratic candidate with a very weak solution of Republicanism cannot impose upon any one.

Mr. McGowan, City Controller, needs no encomium from us. Faithful and capable, a fine type and representative of the intelligent workingman, at home alike in the workshop or when clad in the robes of office and charged with responsible duties, no better or purer man is needed to guard the city expenditures.

Republicans of Pittsburgh the Dissemblers of the "Anti-Ring" and other independent schools, count largely on your apathy and indifference; indeed they rely mainly upon this sort of negative support to achieve success, and to seize for three years upon the administration of the affairs of your city. We conjure you, therefore, one and all to go to the Polls on the 5th day of December next and as citizens valuing the high privilege of participating in the government of our city, now expanding into a great metropolis, to vote for the candidates of that party with which you have been identified, and confide the interests of Pittsburgh to its protecting care and keeping.

ROBERT C. ELLIOTT,
Chairman City Executive Committee.
JOHN D. FLEMING,
M. F. EGAN,
W. J. DIEHL,
Secretaries.

THREE IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.

Where? Why and How?

In these days of progress and refinement when it is regarded as an essential, in every family, both rich and poor, to have either a piano or organ, it becomes a question of great importance to know where to buy an instrument to the best advantage, that is to get the best article for the least money. We answer unhesitatingly, S. Hamilton & Co.'s New Piano and Organ House, 51 Fifth avenue, is unquestionably the best, for the following reasons: 1st. Because they will not sell you a worthless article, as they are young men who feel that their future success in business depends on their guarding their reputation with a jealous care, and as they now enjoy an honestly earned reputation for fair dealing and integrity they will not sell any new instrument they cannot fully guarantee (in writing). Second—Because they can sell you an instrument cheaper, and on easier and more accommodating terms, than any other house in the city. We will just name two reasons why they can sell cheaper: First, as a single item of expense, their rent is less than one-third that of any other first class music house in the city, while their motto, "quick sales and small profits," will show that in the last nine months their sales have not been exceeded by the oldest houses in the city. An additional reason why S. Hamilton & Co. is the best, is the perfect assurance people have of quality and character of such well known instruments as the Decker & Barnes, Patent Pin Block Pianos, Crainer & Co., and Bradford & Co. Parlor Gem Pianos and the Taylor & Farley Organs, whose celestial voicing has given them the first place among Reed Organs. Also George Woods & Co.'s Organs. How to buy one of these elegant instruments is a question that has been answered to the satisfaction of hundreds who have bought of S. H. & Co., and if you will just let them know about how much you can spare as a payment down, and how much per month, you can depend upon being suited in an instrument, both as to price and terms.

Every instrument fully warranted to give satisfaction. Old instruments taken in exchange for new ones.

FURS AND ROBES.

Large Stock at Wm. Fleming & Co.'s, 139 Wood Street—The Place to Save from 15 to 20 Per Cent. on Furs and Robes.

The large stock of ladies' furs, fox, wolf and buffalo robes, brought on by Messrs. Wm. Fleming & Co., 139 Wood street, are the grand attraction on that thoroughfare since the cold weather commenced. It is a well established fact that Fleming & Co. have the largest and greatest assortment of ladies' furs, as well as the finest stock of robes and afghans in the city, and that they will sell their goods at from fifteen to twenty per cent. lower than other houses, and since this has been discovered everybody wanting either ladies' furs, robes, sleigh wraps or hats go to Fleming's for them. It is always policy to buy where you can get goods cheapest and where you can have a large stock to select from. Consequently, Fleming & Co.'s, 139 Wood street, is the place, for they not only sell cheaper, but sell more goods than any other house, and must necessarily have a larger stock. They are continually receiving goods from the Eastern markets to keep their stock full, and as the season has now fairly set in we would advise all our readers who need anything in their line to call and examine their goods, as they cannot fail to be suited in either style, quality or price.

"DELMONICO'S."

The Opera House Dining and Billiard Rooms—The Great Resort.

The Opera House Dining and Billiard Rooms are without doubt the "Delmonico's" of Pittsburgh. There is no other place in the city where the wants of the inner man can be so well supplied; no other place where oysters, fish and game are served so palatable; where the tablecloths are whiter or cleaner, or the knives, forks and spoons brighter; no bar in the city where you get better liquors and at no other place can mixed drinks so refreshing be obtained. The billiard tables are the best in the city, the billiard hall the best and finest furnished, and, in fact, there is no place like the Opera Dining and Billiard rooms for either dinners, drinks or billiards. Mr. George Reineman, the proprietor, has fully demonstrated his ability to run such an establishment, and the public have, with equal force, gave evidence of their appreciation of his efforts. The Opera House Billiard and Dining Rooms are a success, and are not surpassed by any other in the State.

Mellor & Hoene's Musical Emporium.

It may not be generally known that Messrs. Mellor & Hoene, dealers in music and musical instruments, are now offering to the public a piano manufactured expressly for them, and bearing their own name into market. It is a piano which, in excellence and durability, stands with equal superiority to any manufactured. There has been a demand, and it has been seriously felt by many, to have a piano equal to the best, and yet within the range of a reasonable price. Awake to every interest, Messrs. Mellor & Hoene have at length succeeded in obtaining an instrument which they are now introducing into our market, of the best of material, and with all the late improvements combined, including the new over-strung bass, Agraffe treble and full metallic frame, with wooden bearings. These pianos have been tested and are acknowledged equal in power, clearness and brilliancy of tone with those of other manufacturers at a far less cost. The prices are at such extreme low figures as to bring them within the reach of all who may desire one. Messrs. Mellor & Hoene are practical musicians, and have had years of experience, hence they do not hesitate to announce to those who are desirous of purchasing a piano, that they can, and do, offer such liberal inducements that will give their house the precedence. The house is proverbially known as a first class and reliable one, and the merits of their claims should be acknowledged. The warerooms are No. 53 Fifth avenue, nearly opposite the Opera House.

Scrap Books.

Messrs. R. S. Davis & Co., booksellers and stationers, 175 Liberty street, have been making very extensive preparations for accommodating their patrons and the public generally with holiday goods, and are receiving a large stock in that line. Among the many articles suitable and appropriate for holiday gifts we noticed a number of neatly bound scrap books, ladies work boxes, fancy boxes, visiting cards, paper knives, pen wipers, autograph albums, tourists cases, portfolios, and a host of other things. They have also a full stock of fine stationery, such as initial and tinted note papers, of new styles with envelopes to match, fine gold pens and fancy ink-stands, and in fact everything usually found in a first-class book and stationery store, and their stock of standard and miscellaneous books is full and complete, embracing all the latest publications. In addition to what we have already enumerated, they have a large collection of neatly and elegantly bound books, intended expressly for presents. Call and examine their fine stock.
